Paddlewheel Satellite Flies

...Miniature Lab Is Crammed With Scientific Instruments

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—The United States Friday fired into a wide-swinging orbit a 142-pound paddlewheel satellite—a miniature laboratory jammed full of instruments to probe the mysteries of space.

The launching from this missile test center went without a hitch. The spheroid-shaped satellite—dubbed Explorer VI—blasted off in the nose of a 90-foot, 3-stage Thor-Able rocket.

Two hours and 37 minutes later, the government space agency in Washington announced it had gone into orbit. It was announced the orbit was stable and that all the instruments then tested were working perfectly.

Data received in the first 7 hours of its flight indicated the satellite's elliptical orbit was taking it to a peak altitude of 25,950 miles and a low point 152 miles above earth. Advance expectations were for an outer reach of 23,000 miles and a close-in range of 160 miles.

One Year

Scientists and Explorer VI will stay up for more than a year.

It was described as the most comprehensive scientific package sent aloft by the United States so far—a forerunner of bigger, more advanced research vehicles.

Packed into the spheroid were instruments designed to carry out 15 major experiments, most of them looking ahead to the day when the United States sends its first man into space.

Some of the devices will investigate the extent and density of potentially deadly radiation belts around the earth. Others will measure the density of cosmic dust. Also aboard is a televisionlike scanning instrument built to send back crude pictures of the earth's cloud cover.

Nicknamed

One unique feature is an arrangement of 4 solar vanes, each 3 feet long, designed to spring out from the side of the satellite. It is these paddle-like vanes which give the Explorer its unofficial nickname of paddlewheel satellite.

The purpose of the vanes is to convert the sun's rays into electrical energy to power radio batteries and recharge them during the satellite's lifetime. Scientists said that if the solar generating system works as planned, future space ships may be able to send back radio messages from 20 million to 50 million miles out.

Attached to the base of the satellite was a 5-pound kick rocket to provide added speed of 50 to 100 miles an hour, and thus lift its orbit a bit, if it came closer than 100 miles to earth. This rocket would be fired by ground signal.

EXPLORER VI IS MAKING GIANT LOOPS

Washington (AP) — Explorer VI is making such big loops through space that it takes 6 times as long as the other satellites to travel once around the earth.

The paddlewheel satellite takes 12½ hours to complete one orbit. That's because it zooms out to a distance of 25,950 miles and then whistles back in to within 152 miles of the earth.

Here are the orbital periods of the other satelittes, and their maximum or apogee and minimum or perigee distances from the earth:

Explorer I, launched Jan. 31, 1958—one hour and 54.8 minutes; apogee 1,573 miles, perigee 224 miles.

Vanguard I, launched Mar. 17, 1958—two hours 14 minutes; apogee 2,453 miles, perigee 409 miles.

COOL SPELL IS DOOMED

Lincoln's Friday cool spell was short lived as temperatures for Saturday are expected to range between 80 and 90 degrees.

Variable cloudiness with scattered showers and thunderstorms in west and central Nebraska are expected. It will be partly cloudy in the eastern portion of the state.

The weatherman calls for generally fair skies Saturday night with no important temperature changes, though somewhat warmer temperatures are scheduled for southwestern Nebraska.

No Developments In Noble Search

...MAY HAVE LEFT LINCOLN

By Del Harding

The search for kidnap-rape suspect Harlan Lynn Noble continued with no new developments Friday, and there was increasing speculation that the 47-year-old mental hospital escapee may have left Lincoln.

Police Chief Joe Carroll, however, is still having 20 men work double shifts and all officers are still on the lookout for Noble in case he should have avoided detection in Lincoln since the alert went out Wednesday evening.

Another 1,000 wanted posters with Noble's photo and description were printed Friday and they and the 2,500 previously printed are being distributed to every Nebraska city and to lawmen throughout the nation.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has been working on the case since Thursday afternoon but it reported no leads in the search for Noble.

Charged

Noble has been charged with kidnapping, forcible rape and sodomy in the Aug. 1 kidnap-assault of 6-year-old Theresa Dowding of 902 No. 22nd. The child was taken from her bedroom by the assailant but later released.

Theresa is recovering from shock and injuries at a local hospital and she si expected to be released within the next few days.

The last time Noble was reported seen in Lincoln was Wednesday noon, and although all means of transportation from the city have been watched it is believed he may have eluded the dragnet and left town.

Two humorous incidents in the deadly serious search indicated how thorough is the police search for Noble.

Rush To Scene

Several police cars were sent rushing to the area near 22nd and W Thursday night when a woman reported seeing a man hiding in bushes near her home. The man was quickly apprehended and was found to be a policeman who had been assigned to check the area near Theresa's home.

Later on that night police halted two men in the railroad yards. The two "suspicious characters" were found to be two deputy sheriffs patrolling the yards in plain clothes.

Numerous calls of prowlers or suspicious looking men have been answered by police since the alert went out but none has resulted in any concrete evidence that Noble still is in Lincoln.

Escaped

Noble escaped from a mental hospital at Larned, Kan., June 3rd and checked in at a Lincoln hotel the next day. He became a suspect in the Dowding case Monday evening when police received tips that he had escaped and that the crime here matched several other crimes for which he has been convicted.

Chief Carroll said Noble's photo and description were not made available to newsmen for distribution until Wednesday evening because police wanted to determine if he was in town and if so wanted a chance to apprehend him before he became alarmed and fled.

It was learned Wednesday afternoon that Noble had been living in Lincoln and a few hours later charges were filed against him and his description and photos were released to newsmen.

MANHUNT SPREADS TO BRIDGEPORT

The search for Harlan Lynn Noble centered early Saturday in the Minatare-Bridgeport area.

State Safety Patrol troopers, Scotts Bluff County sheriff's officers and Minatare police joined in an all-out hunt for a man who asked highway directions in Mniatare.

Patrolman Esley Kotschwar later apprehended a hitch-hiker near Bridgeport who answered the description of the man seen in Minatare.

Kotschwar reported early Saturday that he "doesn't think" the man is Noble. However, he was held in the Bridgeport jail pending further questioning.

The Patrol at Scottsbluff reported it has received more than 45 calls from people reporting suspicious characters.

Airport Decision Due Next Week

Vic Favors East Lincoln Site

By Virgil Falloon

City Airport Authority members listened quietly to varying opinions on the two airport plans at a 3-hour public hearing Friday afternoon, but Chairman Vic Anderson dominated the session with frequent speeches favoring a new airport east of Lincoln.

Approximately 70 persons attended the hearing with most individuals speaking in favor of the "municipal runway" plan at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

'Next Week'

The Authority members will not make a decision on the plans under consideration "until sometime next week," but "before Aug. 15," Chairman Anderson said.

Anderson said further Authority discussion and a vote on the two plans would "be taken at an open meeting" and newsmen would be advised of a meeting date.

The hearing opened with explanation of the two plans and cost estimates by the engineers responsible for their development.

The Costs

The LAFB second-runway plan was estimated a $3,755,702 for its first-stage development with an ultimate proposed development of $7,963,745.

The comparable first-stage plan for a new airport east of Lincoln was estimated at $4,180,444 with ultimate development to $10,282,714.

With an explanation of federal aid procedures and the Aug. 19 deadline for applications, State Aeronautics Director Jack Obbink said "Lincoln rates way down the scale in airport safety and would thus be highly-eligible for federal airport matching funds."

Co-Operation

He promised his department's co-operation in processing whichever airport plan was submitted by the city's airport authority.

Approximately 15 or 16 persons of those present appeared before the Authority, but quite a few others asked questions from their seats.

All in all, the proponents of the second-runway plan appeared to be about two-to-one over the proponents for a new airport. However, a few questioned the need for either proposal.

Nixon's Visit Won Hearts Of People

...BUT NOT OF SOVIET BOSSES

By George W. Healy Jr.
(Editor, The New Orleans Times-Picayune)

Washington (AP)—For all the good he apparently did with the Soviet political bosses, Vice President Richard M. Nixon might just as well have stayed at home.

The good that he accomplished with thousands, perhaps millions, of plain people beyond the Iron Curtain, in my opinion, is so great that it is inestimable.

Having traveled with the vice president to Moscow, Leningrad, Novosibirsk, Sverdlovsk, Moscow again and Warsaw, I have some positive impressions about this trip.

First, I believe it was the most remarkable good will mission ever undertaken by a tireless high official of the United States and his tireless wife.

Whatever else may have been done, Nixon's journey definitely opened a hole in the dike that has been preventing a flow of information between the United States and Soviet Russia.

His trip behind the Iron Curtain, timed to coincide with the opening of the U.S. Exhibition in Moscow, has given many Russian people a better opportunity to hear the United States' side of the cold war than they have had since shooting started in Korea-Perhaps the best chance they have ever had.

Gave Space

As much as they may have disliked to do it, the official organs of the U.S.S.R. and of the Communist Party—Izvestia and Pravda — grudgingly gave space to Nixon's utterances. Several of his formal speeches were printed in full.

The heckling which these newspapers gave him and the polite abuse—if there can be such a thing — which he received from Nikita S. Khrushchev, in my opinion, could not offset the effects of having his direct statements presented to the Russian people by the official newspapers and by the electronic media.

Save in Moscow, where we were either ignored or scored, the men and women in the streets of Russian cities and towns manifested to us an intense interest in America—particularly the United States. On many occasions Russians literally went all out to show our nation, through its vice president, that they admire Americans and want to know more about them.

Doubles Time Of Warning

New Detection System Could Spot Missile As It Left Launch Pad

Washington (AP)—The Navy said Friday night it is developing a radar-like system which can look over the curve of the earth and spot a ballistic missile almost immediately after it is launched 5,000 miles away.

The program, named Project Tepee, has been in progress about 2½ years. It is being carried out by the Office of Naval Research.

A scientist told a news conference that successful tests in detection were made during last summer's high altitude nuclear-missile experiments over the south Atlantic and in the mid-Pacific.

In those tests, atomic explosions of the missiles were detected from a location in the United States.

Dr. William J. Thaler of the Naval Research Office said in answer to a question about the system "you could hope it would double the warning time possible under ballistic missile warning systems now being built."

These systems are intended to give about 15 minutes warning, when the missile is about halfway in flight to target.

Experimental

Thaler said that only experimental equipment has been used up to now but:

"We are confident that a system capable of reliable detection over intercontinental ranges is feasible.

"The same basic techniques have also demonstrated a capability of detecting a nuclear explosion from thousands of miles away. Thus, it could be employed as one means of discovering violations of a nuclear test ban."

The Tepee detector system was explained by Thaler this way:

A radar signal capable of detecting the presence of a volume of ionized gas—which results either from the rocket blast trail of a missile or from an actual nuclear detonation—is beamed up against the ionospheric layer. This layer, the top of which is at an altitude of about 250 miles, reflects radio signals.

The beam bounces off the layer, picks up any tell-tale traces of ionized gas, and then bounces the signal back instantly to the transmitting point.

New Kind

The Navy said this is a new kind of radar, which it called "high frequency ionospheric-back scatter radar." Conventional radar is limited in range in the same way and for the same reason that television is—the waves travel in a straight line and will not follow the earth's curvature.

The ionized gas consists of particles of electrons.

Thaler was asked if the Navy had tested the Tepee system against Russian ICBM test launchings. He replied "no."

Thaler said he believed it would be possible to have a workable detection system using the Tepee principle "in a couple of years" if an all-out effort was put behind the project.

He also said he thought it would be a relatively inexpensive system.

School Tax Up .81 Mill

County Bill Drops .4 Mill

The Lancaster County Board, sitting as the County Board of Equalization, set the county mill levy at 4.50 and the Lincoln School District levy at 43.24 Friday afternoon.

The county levy represents a .4 drop from last year's 4.90 figure and is the fourth straight year the county levy has been lowered.

The city school levy is only .81 over last year's 42.43 levy. Earlier a boost of 1.5 to 2.5 mills had been anticipated.

Only the City of Lincoln has yet to set its levy. Last year's city levy was 16.60 and it is expected to be about 16.27 this year.

Institutional Levy

The County Board also set a 2.67 state institutional levy compared with 2.64 last year. The levy is used to pay for care of county patients in state institutions.

The county's 1959-60 budget totalled $3,054,603 of which $962,346 will come from property taxes.

The school's total budget is $10,361,430 of which $7,786,486 will come from property taxes.

A $10 million increase in this year's county assessed valuation helped keep the levies down. The assessed valuation jumped from $203 million last year to $213 this year.

Levy Breakdown

The following table shows a breakdown of the county levy and the amount each separate levy will bring in:

Levy	Income
General, 3.39	$724,967
Bridge, .68	145,421
Relief, .35	74,849
Sold. & Sailors Relief, .08	17,108
Total, 4.50	$962,346

The school district levy is made up of the following parts:

Fund	Levy
General	35.80
Bldg.	1.61
Bond Int.	1.27
Bond Snkg.	4.56
Total	43.24

Ike Will Go To Europe Late This Month

London And Paris Talks Are Planned

. . . Before K's Visit

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower will go to Europe about Aug. 28 for allied conferences leading up to his Sept. 15 meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Washington.

The White House announced that Eisenhower will go first to London for several days of informal talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Then on Sept. 2 he will go to Paris to meet with French President Charles de Gaulle.

May Go To Bonn

Arrangements also are under discussion between Washington and Bonn for a meeting between Eisenhower and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. White House press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he would make an announcement on this as soon as plans are settled.

Formal announcement of Eisenhower's trip to London and Paris was another step in the intricate international fabric being woven for the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meetings which are now due to take place in Washington next month and in Moscow later this year.

The President's projected trip obviously is designed to get all the allied signals straight in advance of Khrushchev's departure for Washington.

Florida Uni Student Slain

Sarasota, Fla. (UPI)—The bound body of a 23-year-old University of Florida student, his head masked with tape and his throat cut "from ear to ear," was found here in a bedroom of his parents home.

The grisley discovery of the body of Chandler Steffens was made by his pretty young wife Betty, 19, mother of two.

An unidentified male suspect was arrested for questioning a few hours later, police announced. There was no apparent motive in the killing.

Police said the room in which Steffens' body was found was "fairly orderly." They theorized he may have been knocked out and carried to the room and said more than one person may have been involved in the crime.

Plunge Of Plane Kills Store Chain Head, Two Others

Logansport, Ind. (AP)—Ermal W. Marsh, 48, president of the Marsh Foodliner, Inc., store chain in 4 states, was killed along with two other persons Friday when his twin-engine plane plummeted into a barnyard 5 miles southeast of Logansport.

Also killed in the crash were Spencer E. Deal, 53, just named treasurer of the firm, and Deal's 18-year-old daughter, Jean. All 3 lived in Muncie, Ind., where Marsh Foodliners has its headquarters in the suburb of Yorktown.

Company officials said Marsh was flying Deal and his daughter to Chicago for a farewell party for Deal's son, Spencer Jr., who was scheduled to be shipped to Korea in a few days by the Army.

Marsh founded and headed a firm that owns 57 food stores in Indiana, Ohio, South Carolina and Georgia.

Records On Noble Conflict

Conflicting reports from Des Moines, Iowa, and Larned, Kan., indicate that Harlan Lynn Noble has an inventive mind as to his background as well as names.

Information on Noble, alias Daniel Boyd, Luther Boyd and Lynn Ashby, at the Larned, Kan., State Hospital shows that he was a small child when his parents brought him from Switzerland.

Records there, which were received from other institutions to which Noble had been committed, also state that he lived as a child in Alaska, where his parents died in a blizzard.

However, the Iowa Bureau of Vital Statistics has records showing Noble was born near Wapello, Iowa, on Dec. 25, 1911. He is listed as the son of Fred P. and May Noble and his father was a farmer. This information is backed up by an aunt, Mrs. Etta Noble, of Wapello, who said the family has always lived in that area.

Larned hospital records indicate that Noble was quiet and kept to himself.

Sheaff Counsel For Subcommittee

Washington—A former Lincoln City Councilman recently became a minority counsel of the Senate Privileges and Elections subcommittee.

Roy A. Sheaff, 37, an attorney for General Services Administration for 18 months before accepting the post, was a member of the Lincoln City Council from 1949-1953.

Sheaff also served as the assistant to Ira Beynon of Lincoln, who recently resigned as the GSA administrator's special assistant.

The Privileges and Elections subcommittee operates under the Senate Rules Committee of which Sen. Carl Curtis is the ranking Republican.

Polio Increases

Washington (UPI) — The Public Health Service reported that there were 183 cases of paralytic polio in the week ending Aug. 1, a record high for the year.

In the previous week, there were 177 cases reported.

The new report brought the total number of paralytic cases to 1,316 for the year. This compared with 579 for the same period in 1958.

In addition, 89 nonparalytic cases were reported for the week of Aug. 1. There also were 40 cases of unspecified type.

Racket Control Nears

House 'Certain' To Draft Bill

Washington (AP) — Passage by the House next week of some form of labor racketeering control bill was viewed as a certainty Friday by the chief adversaries in the impending battle.

President Eisenhower's appeal to the nation for support in erasing what he called the "national disgrace" of labor-management gangsterism appeared to have capped growing pressure for Congressional action.

The White House reported an unusually large telegraphic response to Eisenhower's demand for a tough federal law to drive the "gangsters, racketeers and other corrupt elements" out of the labor-management field.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said a surprisingly large number of wires were "virtually unanimous in support of the President's position"

On Capitol Hill, where the House starts a week of no-holds-barred debate next Tuesday, the opinion was just about unanimous there is going to be a bill passed. Opinions differed as to its nature.

Rep. John F. Shelley (D-Calif), author of a bill endorsed by the AFL-CIO, said: "The temper of the congress is such now that there's going to be a bill this session. But I don't know that sound legislation can be written in the hysteria that now prevails."

North Dakota Crash Kills 6

Steele, N.D. (AP)—Six persons —an Indiana couple, 3 Canadians and a visitor from Britain, were killed Friday in the head-on collision of two cars near this central North Dakota town.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sasek, and Archie Groves, all of St. James, Man., Canada; Grove's sister, Elsie Groves of London, England, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Richard French, Hammond, Ind.

Officers used torches to remove the bodies from the wrecked cars.

Authorities said the machines came together on a slight incline.

C. W. Martin, a New York motorist, driving to Seattle, said he was one of the first persons to come upon the crash.

"It was awful," said Martin. "My wife refused to stay because of the blood and horror."

There were no known witnesses to the crash and the six victims were the only occupants of the two cars.

The accident happened on U.S. Highway 10. Steele is about 40 miles east of Bismarck.

PRESIDENT SPENDS WEEKEND AT FARM

Washington (UPI)—President Eisenhower drove to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm Friday for the start of an indefinite vacation prior to his forthcoming cold war talks.

The "vacation" will be interrupted briefly by a return to Washington Monday for some appointments that afternoon and Tuesday.

But immediately afterward he will return to the farm and stay there until just before his departure for London for talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan beginning Aug. 28 and subsequent talks in Paris with President Charles de Gaulle.

AIRPORT AUTHORITY HEARS BOTH SIDES

sion executive, said the second-runway plan should be favored because building restrictions, noise and hazard problems would be already solved for the city.

Conflicts

He pointed to potential conflicts in the future between aviation needs and the radio and television towers generally located east of the city if an airport were built there.

Roger Dickeson, an attorney and private pilot, urged the new airport plan and said a "dual flight pattern at the air base would be unnerving for private pilots."

He said the LAFB plan would have no cross runway, would be a mixture of jet aircraft and light planes, and "would multiply the air density problem."

In contrast, Miles Johnston, another local attorney, questioned how long jet bombers will be at the air base, in the expanding missile defense program.

What In 10 Years?

"Maybe in 10 years, the Air Force won't have a plane at the base," Johnston said. "Before you spend $10 million on a new airport, let's make sure the air base isn't going to be a white elephant."

Mayor Pat Boyles said a number of persons, representing business, banking, local retail, investment and other interests had contacted him about the airport plans.

"While differing in their approach," Boyles said, "they all without exception believe the only logical and sensible development is to expand municipal facilities at the Lincoln Air Force Base."

"You will probably hear from these people in an organized manner later," Boyles said. "As a personal feeling, I believe it would be a mistake for the Authority to be too concerned with an Aug. 19 deadline."

• 'Look Forward'

Chairman Anderson told Boyles "I'm sorry we don't have a year to sell the people on a new airport. It's a big price tag, but the city should look forward to its air future."

Other speaking at the hearing were:

L. K. Emry, representing the Railroad Shop Crafts union: "By looking forward 50 to 100 years, can Lincoln expand residentially eastward if the new airport is built there? It would be a serious noise and nuisance situation for home owners."

C. O. Blanchard, representing the "Citizens Committee," said his group "was definitely opposed to a new airport. There's no doubt but what the present airport should and can be expanded."

Harold Hinds of Miller & Paine favored the new airport plan and predicted "new advances in noise abatement by the time the facility could be constructed."

Leo Bartunek, appearing as taxpayer, charged "multi-million dollar promoters formed the airport authority without giving the little taxpayer a voice in the matter. No tax money should be spent on either airport plan."

A spokesman said the Downtown Development of Lincoln Inc. was not yet ready to state its position, but intended to do so soon.

Questioned

At least one speaker questioned whether the Authority could determine public opinion on the two airport plans "in just one little meeting."

Anderson said no further public hearing would be held, but that "written communications would be received from any interested person."

Authority members at the hearing were Leo Beck Jr., Robert Phillips, Jack Pace and Chairman Anderson. Absent was Charles Stuart.

None of the members made any comment at the hearing's close when asked if they cared to do so by the chairman.

Kauai Isle Battered

. . . By Hurricane Dot

Honolulu (AP)—The lush little Hawaiian island of Kauai lay torn and battered in the wake of hurricane Dot.

The roaring storm flattened buildings, flooded rivers and blacked out power and communications facilities on the island where the movie "South Pacific" was filmed two years ago.

Extensive damage to the island's sugar and pineapple plantations was feared.

There were no known casualties among the 28,000 islanders.

Hurricane Dot Friday headed off into the Pacific northwest of Kauai.

There was no report of any damage to freighters or passenger ships in the Pacific.

Grandma Ends 2,000-Mile Stroll

Portland, Ore. (AP) — Mrs. Emma Gatewood, a 71-year-old grandmother from Gallipolis, Ohio, strode into Portland, ending her 2,000-mile walk from Independence, Mo.

An estimated 5,000 persons jammed the streets in the Parkrose district as the tanned Mrs. Gatewood swung jauntily through the Portland suburb.

Mrs. Gatewood set out 3 months ago to walk to Portland.

She left Independence after the departure of the Oregon Centennial wagon train, passed the wagons somewhere along the route. The train still was several days behind her when she arrived here.

'Ugly'—Or The Garbage Can's Lament

As Told To Bill Anderson

Some people call me ugly; others kick me in anger; many ignore me.

I'm referred to by some as a "garbage" can or "trash" barrel. This kind of makes me mad. I prefer to be known as a sanitary disposal receptacle.

One man even called me an unkempt artist—one who sits around drawing flies all day. I didn't appreciate the pun.

I'm not young anymore. I was born in an unknown steel mill somewhere in 1929 and unceremoniously shipped to Lincoln along with a group of my relatives. That's the last time I saw them. I don't even know if they're still in town or if they've been melted away.

125 Relatives

City Street Supt. Allen Myers says 125 of my relatives are squatting on corners in the city's business districts. I'd like to meet some of them, but I guess I'll have to wait until I can join them on the scrap heap.

When I hit town, my whole life changed. My bright green factory coat was covered with aluminum paint and my chubby sides became an advertisement for the city street department.

I didn't mind. I thought it would be much nicer working for the city then to be stuck in some out-of-the-way restroom where I would not be seen and talked about.

I felt like I owned the streets when I still had the complexion and fresh aroma that surrounds youth. After all, I cost about $40 new, and that's not cheap. Some of my smaller relatives are only worth $1 and I don't think much of them.

A big gunny sack equipped with a drawstring at the top was forced down my top. I didn't really mind the itchy sack because it kept me warm in the winter. But the sack and I parted company several years ago.

When rain began to leak through my lid and rust my innards, the city decided I needed a new friend, so they bought a steel liner to help me keep my health. The liner's okay in the warm months, but in the winter it sometimes freezes to my insides and people have to jerk us loose to burp me.

I guess I was somewhat disillusioned when I first started here. I thought everyone would pay attention to me and what I was here for. But they ignore me and throw their candy wrappers and chewed gum everywhere.

Supt. Myers says they even have to hire about a dozen men to do the job that I'm supposed to do — keep trash off the streets.

Kick Me

I guess people are sometimes hard to get along with. Every once in a while someone will come along and kick me or bang my lid. I think the sign — "Push Here" — stenciled up there on top brings out primitive emotions. Once in a while I strike back and snap my lid down on their fingers.

I guess I'm not very pretty and I don't use beauty soap, but I'm not dumb. My lid may look something like a dunce cap, but thousands of intelligent words pour through my hatch every week.

If you're ever in the business areas of Lincoln, come and see me. I don't mind if you pat my swinging door. If you treat me right, I won't pinch your finger. You might even throw me a banana peel. I'd like that.

ONE OF MY CUSTOMERS

Someone has flipped my lid and decided to pay a call with a banana peel in his hand. Staff Photographer Harald Dreimanis decided to put his camera on my floor so he could see what I go through every day. You see, I'm a city sanitary disposal receptacle.

Town's Water Supplies Get Clean Bill

. . . Two Still Checked

Municipal water supplies at Papillion and Leshara were still being checked Friday by the State Health Department, but a clean bill of health had been given the water supplies of 3 other flood-stricken communities: Ashland, Prague and Malmo.

State Sanitation Director T. A. Filipi said the city water supplies of Ashland, Prague and Malmo were not affected by the recent flood since the pumps "had previously been raised well above flood level."

Residents of those areas had been warned, however, to use only city water until all private wells can be tested, he said.

Chlorine has been added to the water of those communities, Filipi said, but this was done partly as a sanitation measure to aid in street washing.

State Liquor Commission Charges Nine

The Nebraska Liquor Control Commission Friday charged nine retail liquor and beer establishments with liquor act violations involving purchases from wholesalers while having delinquent accounts.

Charged were the Omaha Athletic Club, retail Class C liquor; Carl J. Buda of Omaha, Class C. liquor; Duffy's Tavern, Inc., Omaha, Class C liquor; Alfonso and Katherine Roberto of East Omaha, beer, on and off sale.

Robert L. and Norma J. Klein of Lincoln, beer, on and off sale; American War Dads Club Chapter 36, Alliance, beer, on and off sale; Sam and Steve Liakos, doing business as King's Corner, Alliance, beer, on and off sale; Herman Groves, Louisville, beer, on and off sale; E. W. and Katharine Johnson, Oxford, package liquor and beer, on sale only.

Public hearings on suspension or revocation of the licenses have been set for throughout the day Aug. 19.

Walter C. Haase, secretary of the commission, said it is unlawful for retailers to accept merchandising credit for longer than 30 days, and it is unlawful to purchase alcoholic beverages from wholesalers while any account is unpaid after 30 days.

Retailers who have allowed an account with one wholesaler to become delinquent might buy from another wholesaler without telling him the first account is deliquent, Haase said.

The commission cited three alleged violations for all but one of the establishments charged. Eighteen wholesalers have also been summoned to testify, but Haase said there is no reason to believe any of them were in violation.

Treat Khrushchev With Dignity

When President Eisenhower spoke of the forthcoming visit of Premier Khrushchev he conceded that there was some danger of incidents, but expressed confidence that the government could handle the premier's security.

Now that it is all settled that the long talked of visit is going to take place it is up to the American people to reflect on what sort of a host they are going to be.

Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson has already declared himself. He wishes Congress to finish its work and be absent during Khrushchev's stay. That is well enough. Mr. Khrushchev is the administration's guest. If there is to be any international understandings it is the President's responsibility. He should not be required to negotiate with Congress shouting in his ear.

Most of what Mr. Khrushchev stands for is distasteful to Americans. Yet it would be unwise to express that by incidents which could nullify the good purposes of the meeting. It would also be unwise for ambitious public figures to see how much political mileage they can make out of the event.

It must be said that Russia has done a good job receiving American dignitaries and scored especially well with its reception of Vice President Nixon. The United States is a civil nation and should do no less. Without idolizing Mr. Khrushchev it should go about giving him complete security and entertaining him with grace and dignity. Such behaviour does not at all amount to a public endorsement of all he stands for or has done but it would be an expression of the nation's respect for itself and a token to the free nations of the world that the United States is ready to go to far ends for their ultimate good.

The President's Labor Position

No one, except possibly gangsters, will disagree with President Eisenhower that there should be no further delay in purging every vestige of racketeering in labor-management relations.

And no one now doubts but that goons have run their roots deeply both into labor organizations and into the activities of too many managements as well. And there is ample proof that there are figures in commanding position in some unions who have played high wide and handsome with union money and the membership's interests.

But the differences that arise are of method and effect and in view of that the country is not in unanimous support of the President's recommendations. In the name of justice the Congress is struggling with the problem of a purge precise enough that it will trim the rotten substance away without destroying the essence of unionism. The difficulty lies in natural partisanship aligning those who believe that the only good union is a dead union against those who believe that a proper purgative would allow the unions to emerge in better vigor and conscience.

In such a situation the Mr. In-Betweens are finding their most careful legislative cookery dashed to the floor by the extremists. Under such an impasse the goons are continuing to thrive.

The President did not help his cause by leaning too heavily toward the anti-labor side when he stated his case to the American public. His anti-picketing and anti secondary boycott recommendations are matters subject to treatment separate from those of racketeering. They come under the head of a new and better definition of labor's rightful place while gangsterism and racketeering are an evil in themselves and must be treated as such. Unless they are isolated and destroyed there is no law the Congress can pass that can qualify as remedial.

Congress would have been better served at this juncture by an action to reduce the position of the extremists who have been the greatest obstacle to any labor law.

Battle To End Wire Pulling

From The Denver Post

The American Bar Association has stirred up quite a furor in Congress with a bill designed to put an end to the use of undercover pressure by anyone (including congressmen) to influence decisions of approximately 100 governmental agencies which possess quasi-judical powers.

The bill would make it a criminal offense for a person to have ex parte communication with a member of a federal quasi-judicial body in connection with any pending adversary proceeding.

An "adversary proceeding" means one in which there are two or more contestants such as two companies which are seeking the same television channel. In the case of the television channel the quasi-judicial body would be the Federal Communications Commission, which licenses TV stations.

"Ex parte" means with only one side being heard.

The kind of communication the bill would seek to outlaw is the informal telephone call in which Mr. Big rings up his friend on a government board just to tell him he has known Contestant X for a long time and hopes X will get a fair shake before the board.

Or, the same message can be given in a few words dropped at a cocktail party.

This is "ex parte" influence because Contestant Y doesn't know anything about it and, hence, is not prepared to combat it by lining up some other Mr. Big on his behalf.

How many cases in Washington are decided through the use of this kind of influence no one knows but there is a suspicion, dating back to the time of Sherman Adams and before, that the pressure on quasi-judicial agencies is tremendous at times.

As Senator Carroll has pointed out, the ABA bill would not prevent influential persons from trying to help out their friends in proceedings before government agencies. It would merely require that communications with the agencies be put in writing and be made part of the record in the pending cases for all interested parties and the public to see.

Only influence exercised secretly — ex parte—would be criminal.

Perhaps the biggest obstacle in the way of the bill is the present-day concept of many Congressmen that they are elected not merely to represent their constituents in law-making activities but to represent them personally in any and all business the constituents may chance to have with any government agency.

Many Congressmen measure their success by the number of wires they can pull on behalf of good old Joe Blow, back home. They depend on wire-pulling to keep them in solid with the voters.

BOB CONSIDINE

A Resume Of Nixon's Russian Visit

WASHINGTON — What did Nixon's trip prove? It proved that we have somebody in government who can talk just as tough and knowledgeably as Khrushchev. It proved that the years of Communism's Hate Americans program has been a dismal waste of money. It broke a little ice, cleared a path for Ike.

What will the Eisenhower-Khrushchev visits prove?

For Eisenhower it will be opportunity to proclaim intimately to the Soviet peoples that we are every bit as much for peace as they are and every bit as strong or stronger if Big Brother gets tough.

For Khrushchev it will be an eye-opening look at a thriving system he's stubbornly sure is soon going to fall in his crazy white hat like a ripe plum.

What will the trip do for Nixon's political fortunes in 1960?

Help them considerably if at that time the convention and the voters want a man relatively tough on Communism, able to hold his own at the Soviet-U.S. conferences and realistic enough to know that he can't change things overnight.

Did the trip pan out as Nixon expected?

No. He thought it would consist of cutting a ribbon at the American fair in Moscow, having a private talk with Khrushchev behind closed doors, seeing the sights and buildings of a couple of "closed" cities and reporting to Ike.

As it turned out, he got hit on the jaw in the first minute of the fight with Khrushchev, much as Dempsey got popped at the start by Firpo, made a superb recovery when he realized that the Marquis of Queensberry was dead, and gave 'em hell like a Republican Harry Truman the rest of the way.

What will he warn Ike about, before Khrushchev arrives?

It's a guess but he'll probably urge him strongly to bone up on everything under the sun connected with the economy of this country and the Soviet Union because Big K. is a walking Univac. He may urge him to lay off the sweetness and light approach and not get in any philosophical arguments with the man. He'll surely suggest that the way be cleared for the premier to see as much of the land, the people and the production as time and security permits.

Why didn't he do something about our boys the Red Chinese are still holding, six years after the end of the Korean War?

He tried and got nowhere—the same place U.S. Ambassadors Alexis Johnson and Jacob Beam have gotten with their Chinese counterparts since these interminable discussions started four years ago.

☆ ☆ ☆

Wouldn't it have been politically wise for him to make a point of seeing Stefan Cardinal Wyczynski inasmuch as next year he may be opposed for the presidency by Sen. Jack Kennedy?

He made a pitch but was stopped by two forces: the State Department threw up its hands in horror at the very suggestion, and the cardinal himself sent word that it wouldn't be wise.

Why didn't he insist?

Because the Gomulka government is putting the screws on the cardinal again.

Why would he praise Gomulka so lavishly when this country would like to see Gomulka run out and, also, in view of his own need for Polish American votes if he gets the nomination?

He was impressed by Gomulka's tough dealings with Khrushchev and others, in the course of which he forced —at risk of his life—Khrushchev to remove Red Army tanks which were surrounding Warsaw at the time, kick out Russian Marshal Rokossovsky and accept his (Gomulka's) separate road to Socialism.

Why didn't he get tougher on his Moscow telecast inasmuch as he was given an hour carte blanche with no censorship?

There was no need. The Russian people knew what he was saying.

Fight On For Indiana Dunes

WASHINGTON — A battle between two giant steel corporations and a proposed national park is taking place inside the Senate Interior Committee. Lined up on one side is Bethlehem Steel and George Humphrey, potent ex-secretary of the Treasury, now head of National Steel. On the other side is about 5,000 acres of the beautiful Indiana sand dunes, which a group of senators want to preserve as a national park.

Located between Chicago and Gary, Ind., the Indiana dunes are about the only remaining mecca for recreation and wildlife left by the push of industrialization. West of the dunes is Chicago's grimy factoryland which sprawls out into Indiana. On the east is Gary, Ind., second greatest steel center in the world. The sand dunes, with their extra-ordinary collection of trees, flowers, birds and unsullied bathing beaches are sandwiched between.

Ex-secretary Humphrey, who once called the proposed St. Lawrence seaway "a socialistic ditch," reversed himself after his company secured huge Labrador ore deposits, and he now wants to put a mill on the Indiana sand dunes to use ore imported from Labrador via the seaway.

This has aroused the opposition of Sens. Paul Douglas of Chicago, Ernest Gruening, the ex-governor of Alaska, Dick Neuberger of Oregon, and Frank Moss of Utah. Senators Moss and Gruening flew to the Indiana dunes, wrote an enthusiastic report opposing steel mills, urging a national park.

In the secrecy of the Interior committee, however, three Republicans have lined up with the steel mills. They are: Dworshak of Idaho, Allott of Colorado, and Martin of Iowa. Dworshak's state adjoins one of the finest national parks in the world, Yellowstone, with more geysers than in all the rest of the world combined.

Senator Allott of Colorado also enjoys such famous national playgrounds as its Mesa Verde National Park, and the Rocky Mountain National Park.

However, when it comes to preserving one of the few remaining beauty spots of industrial Indiana, these senators sided with Bethlehem Steel and National steel.

Note: Executives of National Steel contributed $37,200 to the GOP at the last presidential election; Bethlehem Steel executives contributed $8,850; Great Lakes Steel executives, associated with National Steel, gave $18,200. National Steel during the second quarter of this year upped its profits from $6,527,762 to $22,957,018, or a profit of $3.06 per share compared with 88 cents a share.

Johnson Decides To Avoid Khrushchev

WASHINGTON — Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson considers that, in arranging a mid-September visit here by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, President Eisenhower has in effect fixed the adjournment date of this session of Congress. Senator Johnson is expounding this view to his fellow senators roughly as follows:

"We don't want that tough Russian politician around with all his ignorance of how we do things in this country when we're washing our dirty linen in public. We've got to have housing, civil rights, labor and road bills. The first three are hard and emotional issues and the last deals with our financial situation.

"If we're still here we'll have the problem of whether to let Khrushchev address us, and we'll be damned if we do and damned if we don't. The press will be glad to blame us if we're around and he loses his temper, no matter why he does it. He's Eisenhower's baby and we oughtn't to baby-sit for them in any way."

The Senate leader was speaking in this vein even before Khrushchev's Moscow press conference Wednesday at which the Soviet premier seemed to hint that he had thought about the possibility of addressing Congress and would like to do it. The official Russian text quoted him as saying:

"The United States congress is a legislative body and in the first place I do not know whether it will be in session during my visit. Here in our country I bestow upon our distinguished foreign visitors the honor of speaking from that high rostrum and listen to them with pleasure at meetings of the Supreme Soviet. I do not know if such a custom exists in all countries."

☆ ☆ ☆

This will doubtless confirm Senator Johnson in his opinion that the best course is not to be around when the famous visit occurs.

His political judgment has not been affected by the fact that the President differs from him. For when he confronted Eisenhower with the same view he is giving senators, the President appeared startled and then nonchalant. Eisenhower said very casually that he thought everybody knew we argued about our differences in public.

Another factor has occurred to observers which Senator Johnson naturally would not stress in his own arguments. It is that senators might also feel impelled to wash some of the Soviet's dirty linen in public while Khrushchev is here, provided that great national forum, the Senate floor, were open to them.

☆ ☆ ☆

Many senators will not mind having a fixed deadline for adjournment. Some things get lost in a forced stampede for the exits, but it frequently acts also as a catalyst for "must" lists of legislation.

It is not true that Congress, despite the reputation of Washington summers, universally longs to go home early and is sacrificing itself to remain here. They have increasingly preferred their thoroughly air-conditioned "slavery" on Capitol Hill to making themselves available during hot summer days to the home folks.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

When You My Jesus Understand

When you my Jesus understand,
When you accept His loving hand,
A happy morn will dawn for you,
When you know Jesus, too.

His joy will gladden every day,
His blessing shine along the way,
And you will share His promise true,
When you know Jesus, too.

You'll see His mercy through your tears,
His peace will hallow all the years,
The valley holds no dread for you,
When you know Jesus, too.

You'll know His way is always best,
And gladly leave to Him the rest,
And tell what He has done for you,
When you know Jesus, too.

Facing and conquering faith-testing tribulation in her own life led Mrs. Ina D. Ogdon to write these verses to speak words of comfort and counsel to others under similar stress.

At a time when she wanted more than anything else in the world to embark on a Chautauqua career, and was about to realize her ambition, she had to give up her plans when her father was crippled in an accident and needed her care. For a while her disappointment made her resentful but as the months went by she became reconciled to her responsibility and found a deep spiritual peace.

Her hymn contains a number of references which show the change which came over her spirit. Her closing stanza, in particular, indicates how well she learned to trust God's will.

Good In All

Beatrice, Neb.

The rank and file of Russian people are just as human as Americans, the only difference being that they are not allowed to indulge in strikes and other forms of corruption and gambling indulged in by their American cousins and leaders. How long would they last in Russia? True, their leaders rule with an iron hand, but are Uncle Sam's and his compatriots' skirts wholly clean?

At the present Uncle Sam is in the grip of scientists and war-mongers who seek to feather their own nests at the expense of the taxpayers.

There is some good in all humans. Russia sees the handwriting on the wall in regard to Red China. The day will come when they will join the rest of the world against the Red Chinese. Napoleon said that China was a sleeping lion and to let her sleep.

Prefers Radiation

Lincoln, Neb.

In regard to the letter from Laura C. Gaeddert in the August 3 Star, I have noticed many letters to the editor from those who have been "sitting it out" at the ICBM site at Mead. I wonder how many of them are Nebraskans, and even further, how many of them are Americans! How many of those pacifists would be willing to live under the Communist yoke? I feel that they would be the first to protest to our national government if Russia attacked us and we had no ICBM bases to protect us.

Speaking as parents, we would rather die of radiation than live under Communism.

These people will only be helping the Communist cause if allowed to carry on.

The Sex Maniac

Lincoln, Neb.

I have views on various articles which have appeared in the news, and at the moment, the matter of criminally assaulting a baby is uppermost.

My husband and I, as parents of two fine daughters, feel that a man who deliberately assaults a child should be made an example of by turning him over to the family and relatives to do with as they will short of murder before the law prosecutes him The next sex maniac would think twice before committing such a crime. Our laws are much too lax, as the recent Starkweather escapade so clearly showed.

Gov. Brooks recently endorsed a law which will, I hope, eliminate the drunkard from our highways. Let's definitely have laws passed to eliminate the sex maniac as well, so the family may be safe 24 hours a day.

Escaping Us

New York, N.Y.

Even if we are willing to drop "justice" from President Eisenhower's oft-repeated call for "peace with justice," we may get Khrushchev, but peace with the Kremlin rulers will escape us. Their goal is something quite different. In Article 1, Par. 1 of the Constitution of the Communist International, they define it as ". . . the world dictatorship of the proletariat . . . a World Union of Socialist Soviet Republics . . ."

As President Truman said, "No agreement with the Soviets is worth the paper it is written on." We discovered this at Teheran, Yalta, Potsdam, and most recently at Geneva in 1955.

As the uncommitted nations see us getting palsy-walsy with the Moscow mobsters, may they not take a hint and beat a path to the Kremlin door? Who then will oppose Moscow's objectives?

ALFRED KOHLBERG

J. M. ROBERTS

Herter Splashes A Little Cold Water

Secretary of State Herter all unwittingly threw cold water on Nikita Khrushchev just as the Soviet premier was putting on the greatest of all the great Communist peace acts.

That line of Khrushchev's about not going to America with a rocket in his pocket is a Madison Avenue dream.

If the world didn't know the international Communist record so well, and that Khrushchev is a dyed-in-the-wool international Communist, it would have been thrilled by those high-sounding words about U.S.-Soviet relations:

"There are no territorial disputes between our two countries, nor any insoluble contradictions, nor any issues which could prevent the establishment of a climate of confidence and mutual understanding."

☆ ☆ ☆

Fundamental Western policy is based on the concept that the Soviet international Communist conspiracy must be restrained until it undergoes a change of heart from within. One of the problems has been to maintain an objective frame of mind which will, in the end, be quick to recognize and encourage such a change when it truly begins to appear.

It is Khrushchev's objective now to create uncertainty and wonderment on that very point. For it is written into recommended offensives until the capitalist world is sufficiently softened for the kill.

The serpentine approach to Soviet foreign relations has never been more clearly displayed than by the background events during the arrangement of the Khrushchev visit.

☆ ☆ ★

When Vice President Nixon arrived in Moscow, he received the sort of correct welcome which individuals extend to a lawyer representing clients who are about to sue them.

When the American fair opened in Moscow, the press was critical. But the fair is now being praised.

Before Nixon left Russia, the Khrushchev visit was developing, and the temperature around the vice president grew actually warm. Before he passed through the Iron Curtain, his welcome in Poland was tumultuous. Nobody got shot for a shout.

The new peace offensive was rolling along wonderfully, and then Secretary Herter, talking about something entirely different, without reference to other events, said of the failure of the Geneva conference:

"It (the Soviet Union) is interested in getting the Western powers out of Berlin. Apparently continued competitive coexistence (one of Khrushchev's great lines) of freedom and Communism in Berlin is unrewarding to the Soviet Union."

Earl Long Billed For Using Guard Planes

Washington (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana was billed for $4,251 Friday for unauthorized use of National Guard planes for 45 hours and 45 minutes.

The Air Force rendered the bill without comment on whether it expects it to be paid.

Nor did it say what trips used up the flying time, but one of them could have been the flight on which Mrs. Long and others took Long to a Galveston, Tex., mental clinic June 30. Those on that flight included Maj. Gen. Raymond Hufft, adjutant general of the Louisiana National Guard.

Long, whose difficulties have been intense in recent months, received news of the Air Force bill with the attitude that he was being singled out unfairly.

"I will look it over and give it careful consideration," the governor told newsmen in New Orleans.

"All I can keep from paying, I will.

"I want to see some congressmen and other people billed. When they pay, I pay. I don't believe I'll have to pay all that."

Long also said he would leave a down payment on the bill "in my will."

The Air Force said the governor was given 30 days in which to send a check, payable to the treasurer of the United States.

Kennedy Will Talk To State Demo Group

Omaha (AP) — U.S. Senator John B. Kennedy of Massachusetts, a leading prospect for the Democratic presidential nomination, will meet in Omaha Sunday with a group of state leaders.

Gov. Ralph G. Brooks, Congressmen Lawrence Brock and Donald McGinley and Brooks' administrative assistant, Robert B. Conrad, will hold informal talks with Kennedy.

Democratic National Committeeman Bernard Boyle will entertain the party leaders along with members of the Democratic Century Club, a group of top party contributors.

Consumers OKs $2,416,500 For Work At Hallam

Commitments totaling $2,416,500 for work and material on Consumers Public Power District's nuclear power facility near Hallam were approved Friday at a special board of directors meeting.

The highest amount, estimated at $1,324,000, was for special sodium piping for the sodium graphite-type nuclear power facility under construction 22 miles southwest of Lincoln.

The funds are a portion of the $5,220,000 CPPD will invest through an agreement with the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Consumers' board approved a $863,000 contract with the Korshoj Construction Co. of Blair for concrete.

The other commitment, for $229,500, will be negotiated with the Korshoj firm. It involves installation of special insulated metal sidings and roofings, and special doors and windows in the reactor building.

U.S. Newspapers Placed On Display In Moscow Exhibition

By Preston Grover

Moscow (AP) — Twenty-five newspapers from the United States were on display—under clear plastic covers—Friday at the American National Exhibition.

The papers were placed beside the controversial book library.

The library is clearly one of the most popular spots in the fair, so popular in fact, that numbers of books have been worn out in the slightly more than two weeks of the fair and new ones ordered to replace them.

Books on art and illustrated books have generally had hardest use.

But the one volume most often in use, showing the equivalent of years of wear, is the huge Webster's Standard Dictionary, the big 10-pound one.

U.S. Fair officials are still somewhat perplexed about the book controversy.

The display of books has been a center of a dispute since the U.S. Fair opened late last month. American officials have removed between 35 and 40 books from the exhibit.

Another 70 were pulled out and then put back under glass so Russian visitors can look at but not read them.

Russian officials and publications have criticized the book display for what they said was not showing a true picture of Soviet life.

But most U.S. Exhibit officials feel the agreement between the Russians and Americans on managing their respective exhibits in New York and Moscow gave each side clear authority to display its own culture, technology and science.

So far as can be learned here, the Americans made no effort to censor books shown at the Soviet exhibit in New York.

(After the book controversy began, the Russians put all their books in New York under plastic covers. A sign informs U.S. visitors in New York where in the city the Soviet books can be purchased. But most of the American books are not obtainable in Moscow.).

CHAMBERS GETS $15,625 DRAINAGE WORK PACTS

The Sanitary District board Friday awarded a $15,625 contract to the Chambers Construction Co. for construction of two drainage structures.

One concrete drop structure is for the 48th and Dead Man's Run drainage channel outlet. The other is for outlet of the Havelock Overpass to Salt Creek drainage channels.

The two other bids received ranged upwards to $16,815. District Engineer Ralph Marlette said the Havelock Overpass drainage channel digging will be complete in 2 or 3 months, while the 48th channel is already done.

After the Havelock Overpass work is complete, Marlette said the District would resume the deepening and widening of Dead Man's Run from 56th and Holdrege upstream to near Cotner and Vine.

Thin Dikes

In other action, the board heard two complaints from Ashland farmers that Salt Creek dikes are breaking through or getting thin in spots.

The board reaffirmed its policy of co-operating with property owners on sharing the cost of improving the dikes, but noted it did not have sufficient funds to do the job single-handed.

The board said site leases for commercial signs on the District's property would be reviewed at the next meeting.

All board members were present except Chairman H. J. Amen, who is vacationing in Europe.

Third Largest

Paris (AP)—The Algerian population of Paris is about 110,000, making it the third largest Algerian city—exceeded only by Algiers and Oran, Algeria. Most Algerians here are unskilled laborers living in officially run hostels accommodating 12,000 and otherwise crowded into small hotel rooms and so-called bidonvilles (shantytowns) on the outskirts.

DR. FINCH ACCUSED OF $3,000 FORGERY

West Covina, Calif. (AP)—Dr. Bernard Finch forged a $3,000 check on his wife's account two months before she was murdered, his prosecutor said.

Finch, wealthy surgeon, is awaiting trial, charged with the murder.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Fred Whichello said he has the check and will use it "to show motive in the case."

The check, Whichello said, is dated May 18, two days before Mrs. Barbara Finch filed suit for divorce. He said May 18 is the date of their separation.

In her divorce complaint Mrs. Finch estimated her husband's wealth at $750,000.

Weiss Appointed NU Agronomist

Russel E. Weiss has been appointed Extension agronomist, (soils), at the College of Agriculture.

He will fill a vacancy created in June when Dr. Mark Weldon left to join the University of Nebraska staff in Turkey. Weiss had been an assistant in agronomy, filling that capacity since June, 1957.

He received a bachelor's degree from the University of Nebraska in 1950 and a master of science degree from the same institution in 1959. From 1951 to 1956, he was a soil scientist in the Soil Conservation Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, serving in Nebraska, Kansas, and North Dakota.

A native of Virginia, Nebraska, Weiss makes his home in Lincoln. He is married and has two children.

He Calls 'Em Lematoes

Cockermouth, Eng. (AP) — Town Clerk Ernest Jennings thinks he may have accidentally produced something new in his greenhouse. What he planted as tomatoes have turned out to be green and yellow lemon-shaped fruits, and he thinks some hybrid experimental seed may have got mixed with regular tomato seed. Tentatively, before a tasting test, he's calling them lematoes.

Wilcox Family Reunion Is A World Affair

By Germaine Deal

A family reunion usually entails members of a family coming from many points throughout a state or several states. However, the children of Mrs. Ruth Wilcox have come from all over the world for a family gathering, as each resides in a different country.

George Wilcox, who recently returned from Africa where he spent 5 years as area manager of an oil firm in the Belgium Congo and Nigeria, served as president of the American-Afro Friendship Society in Nigeria.

"The people of Africa are probably more pro-American than in any other place in the world," he said. He added that the missionaries have done a great deal in that area, and the people want independence and to be able to choose their way of life.

Mr. and Mrs. James Harms, the former Ardath Wilcox, and son, Stephen, have lived in Guatemala City, Guatemala, where Harms is a geologist for an oil company, for a year and a half.

Prior to their moving to Guatemala, they lived a year in Costa Rica where 2-year-old Stephen was born. Consequently, he speaks two languages and claims dual-citizenry. According to the Harms, who have experienced several earthquakes and a revolution, everything in that area is quite stable now.

Mrs. Harms commented that she attended a tea when Milton Eisenhower and daughter visited Guatemala, and that the reaction of the Guatemalans seemed favorable.

Living in Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Allen, the former Virginia Wilcox, of Ft. Worth, have found that they almost live in another country in the opinion of a Texan. Allen is employed by an insurance company there.

Trooper's Diagnosis Different

The ambulance driver was startled to see a big interstate bus sitting in a ditch near Crete Corner just south of Lincoln.

He halted and true to his mission of mercy rushed to see if he could give aid

There were no passengers but there was a driver. The ambulance man got his stretcher and was putting the bus driver on it when a State Safety Patrolman arrived.

He diagnosed the case a little differently.

Friday Millard James Johnston, 39, of Wichita, Kan., was fined $100 and had his drivers license suspended for 6 months.

The uninjured bus driver was found guilty of being drunk while driving his empty bus from Wichita to Omaha.

Scout Indian Dancers Plan Sunday Session

The Wacisa Indian Dancers, composed of Lincoln Boy Scouts, and the Ahamo Society of Indian Dancers from Omaha, will present a pow-wow at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Boy Scout Camp Minis Kuya located at 1st and Van Dorn.

Both groups are well-known for their interpretative Indian dancing and spectacular costuming. A special feature of the Wacisa Indians, who have performed for several events in Lincoln, is the giant 6-foot thunder drum which can be heard for 7 miles.

The event, which is sponsored by the Wacisa Indian Dancers and the Cornhusker Council of Boy Scouts of America, is free to the public.

Guilty Plea Made In Narcotics Case

Peter Isenagle of Lincoln pleaded guilty Friday in Lancaster District Court to having a narcotic drug illegally in his possession.

Judge John Polk deferred sentencing the 22-year-old transient pending an investigation of the case by the Adult Probation Office.

Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrnbruch told the court cannabis (marijuana) was found in Isenagle's room at 913 O by police last Saturday.

Diller Lass, 17, Walks Off With 5 Top Places In Jefferson County Fair

By Gene Budig

Fairbury, Neb.—How much time and effort does it take to ready livestock for county fair judging contests?

"Plenty!"

That's the answer of a gal who should know—Ardys Logan of Diller. Ardys, only a junior at Diller High School, took five 1st places in the livestock judging at the 47th annual Jefferson County Fair here Friday.

However, winning blue ribbons isn't anything new to Ardys. The Diller 17-year-old estimates that during her 7 years of 4-H livestock competition, she has won approximately 60 awards.

(Star Staff Photo)
Ardys and Dolly

The eastern Nebraska farm girl started plotting her contest strategy when there was still snow on the ground. "Why, in order to make an even half way good showing, you've got to start planning six months ahead."

"The most basic and important step is training your animal to be lead in a show ring," she explained. "And that most generally takes quite a bit of doing."

In addition to this elementary step, the own^ must see that the animal is washed and brushed daily. According to Ardys, this project takes at least two hours.

"After all, the appearance of the animal is one of the major judging points," she added.

The teenager's 1,000-pound Heifer, Dolly, was voted the fair's top breeding heifer. Dolly is only one of the girl's 12 registered cows.

Herd Valued at $4,000

Ardys said her small herd has been valued at nearly $4,000.

More than 250 animals have been entered in the livestock contests, according to S. M. Cressman, fair secretary.

As for the exhibits, some 1,500 are on display for the annual 3-day show, which ends Saturday.

The 4-H king and queen of the fair will be introduced Saturday afternoon.

The attendance has hit 6,500 with 2,500 expected Saturday.

a county road two miles east of Swedeburg, the State Safety Patrol said.

Person's tractor hit a guy wire of a telephone pole and rolled over on him, according to the patrol.

A Lincoln wrecking firm and an ambulance were called to the scene.

Person was a lifelong farmer in the Swedeburg area. He was also a livestock feeder. Surviving are his wife, Ruth; and sons, Robert of Aurora, and Karl, Lyle and Kenneth, all at home.

The Gering police officer, James Ray, was killed early Friday in a car-truck crash just outside the Gering city limits.

Investigators said the police car he was driving was in collision with a tank truck driven by Emmanuel Meastes, 36, of Sidney.

Orville Prohs, about 38, of Gering, another police officer in the car with Ray, was taken to a Sidney hospital. He suffered a broken back.

The police car was making a left turn into a motel, apparently to turn around, when the mishap occurred, officers said. Ray was believed killed instantly. Prohs was pinned in the wreckage about 90 minutes.

TRIO of BRIDES

For the wedding of Miss Marilyn Ruth Miesner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Miesner of Seward, and James W. Carr, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Carr, also of Seward, the chancel of St. John's Lutheran Church in Seward was appointed with banks of greenery, inset with white blossoms, and tall cathedral candles. The Rev. L. W. Heidemann read the lines of the 7:30 o'clock candlelight service, and Herman Schmieding played the wedding music.

Wearing sheaths of pink cotton satin, with over-skirts of embroidered pink organdy, the attendants were Mrs. Norbert Mehl of Chicago, who was her sister's matron of honor; and bridesmaids, Mrs. Paul Hoff of Spokane, Wash.; Miss Carol McOstrich of Grand Island, and Mrs. Rudy Nuttleman. Mrs. Mehl carried pink carnations with tufts of white pompons and ivy, and the maids bouquets were of white carnations, pompons and ivy stands. Miss Carole Yerk and Wayne Hastings lighted the candles, and Connie Boeka was the flower girl.

Anthony Litty served as best man, and the groomsmen were Kenneth Johnson of Lincoln; Gary Hoffman of Wahoo and Everett Davis. The guests were seated by Norbert Mehl of Chicago, Wayne Hastings and Thomas Evans.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of embroidered silk organza. The smoothly sculptured bodice, designed with a Sabrina neckline and brief sleeves, narrowed to a slender waist beneath which the embroidery motif was repeated on the voluminous skirt. A pearl encrusted lace bonnet held to the head her elbow-length veil, and she carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis, centered with a white orchid and encircled with pink rosebuds.

The bride attended the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Carr is a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University, and now is attending the University of Montana at Missoula.

Mrs. James W. Carr, Jr.

Mrs. Wayne R. Robertson

White fujii chrysanthemums and white pompons appointed the altar and chancel of St. Matthew's Church, Episcopal for the wedding of Miss Lucy Ann Webster, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. Wallace Webster, and Wayne R. Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Robertson of Norfolk, which took place on Friday evening, Aug. 7. The Rev. James Stilwell solemnized the 7:30 o'clock ceremony,

With their full-skirted frocks of mint green organza over taffeta the attendants, Miss Ardith Robertson of Norfolk, the maid of honor, and bridesmaid Miss Estelle Vogel of Akron, O., wore bowed hair bandeaux reflecting the tone of their frocks, and carried green-tinted carnations in colonial bouquets.

Spencer Radnich of Norfolk served Mr. Robertson as best man, and the usher was Karl Bauman.

The bride appeared in a gown of white organza and Chantilly lace over taffeta. The lace created the effect of an Empire bodice, designed the batteau neckline, and extended to just above the elbows of the long, organza sleeves. It was repeated in a wide band of insertion on the softly gathered skirt of organza. Her shoulder-length veil was held to the head with a semi-cloche of lace, dotted with pearls, and she carried white orchids and stephanotis on a white Bible.

Both the bride and the bridegroom wil be seniors this year at the University of Nebraska where Mrs. Robertson is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, and Mr. Robertson is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Mrs. Clark Batcheller Noyes

At an 8 o'clock ceremony on Friday evening, Aug. 7, the marriage of Miss Elizabeth E. Schumacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schumacher of Rapid City, S.D., to Clark Batcheller Noyes, son of Mrs. Laurence Noyes of Waterloo, and the late Mr. Noyes, took place at the First Presbyterian Church in Lincoln. Dr. C. Vin White read the lines of the service before a background of cathedral candles and arrangements of white chrysanthemums and Miss Grace Finch played the wedding music. Miss Janice Mack of Wymore was the vocal soloist.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Jack McLean of Omaha; and the bridesmaids, Miss Janet Anderson of York; Miss Mary Rothell of Tecumseh, and Miss Georgiana Stober of Omaha, wore alike frocks of pastel blue organza. Their brief veils were held to the head with frock-toned crowns, and their bouquets were fashioned of white fujii chrysanthemums. Miss Barbara Raynard of Stapleton, and Miss Janet Anderson of Arapahoe lighted the candles.

Alan Anderson of Kansas City, Mo., served as best man, and the ushers included Jack McLean, James Lakin, Arthur Patrick, Wally Bryant, all of Omaha; Roy Meierhenry of Norfolk, and Tom Truman of Lincoln.

White peau de soie, ornamented with Alencon lace, fashioned the bride's gown. Medallions of the lace, embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, contoured the circlet neckline of the briefly-sleeved bodice, and a pleated band, caught with a bow, accented the bouffant skirt which extended into a whisper train. A duchess crown of lace and rope of pearl, dotted with iridescent sequins, held to the head her shoulder-length veil.

Following a reception Mr. Noyes and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Las Vegas, and upon their return they will reside at 1219 So. 22nd St., Lincoln.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority. Mr. Noyes is a senior at Nebraska and is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Dear Abby . . .

A Very Delicate Point!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please settle a family argument once and for all: My husband has six married brothers and two married sisters. On different occasions we wives have to introduce one another to friends. I know that my husband's sisters are my sisters-in-law, and my husband's brothers are my brothers-in-law. But what about the women who are married to my husband's brothers? And the men who are married to my husband's sisters. What are they to me and how should they be introduced? EVELYN

DEAR EVELYN: Technically, only your husband's sisters are your sisters-in-law and the wives of your husband's brothers are your husband's sisters-in-law. But people who point out this fine distinction in making introductions, appear eager to remove the relationship as far away as possible. The wise wife accepts her husband's sisters-in-law as her own.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think this question is too stupid to answer. I am a married man of 33 with black hair, brown eyes and dark complexion. My wife is 31 and she also has black hair, brown eyes and dark complexion. Our youngest child has blond hair, blue eyes and a fair complexion. The child is three years old. Is it too late to find out through a blood test whether this child is mine or not? Or does the blood test have to be taken when the child is an infant?

IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: A blood test can be taken any time with equal success. The blood type of an individual never changes.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My husband sells soft drinks at the Arena where they put on boxing and wrestling matches. He used to come right home from work. But lately he's been coming home at 3 and 4 in the morning. He told me that he's been driving a lady wrestler home and she invites him in for "coffee and." I told him I didn't think this was right. He said I didn't have to worry. What do you say?

SLIGHTLY JEALOUS

DEAR SLIGHTLY: Don't worry about the coffee. It's the "and" that could give you the trouble. Get a full Nelson on your marriage and insist that your husband come directly home from work.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

We Hear That

Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Kelly have returned to their home at Argus, Ind., after spending the last ten days visiting in Lincoln as the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Imig. During their visit, the foursome spent several days at the Imigs' cottage at South Bend. Dr. Kelly is the author of a recently-published book, "Poly Science".

★

Returning home the first of the week from a vacation trip to the Pacific northwest was Mrs. Mary Bigler. Mrs. Bigler visited members of her family near Spokane, Wash., and en route home, flew to Wisconsin to be the guest of other family members for several days.

★

Miss Mary Stout will return to Lincoln Sunday, Aug. 9, after an extended vacation trip. Miss Stout visited family members and former Lincoln residents including Miss Jeanette Malone of San Jose, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Vern Baker of Reno, Nev., Mrs. Ada Stout and Mr. and Mrs. George Wortham, all of Denver, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Stout of Minneapolis.

Marilyn Toft Is Party Honoree

Miss Marilyn Toft of Omaha, whose marriage to Robert Pelley will be solomnized on Aug. 22 was the incentive for a party in Lincoln on Friday.

Miss Toft was honored by Mrs. Charles Wright, the former Suzanne Opitz of Omaha, who was a luncheon hostess at the Lincoln Country Club. The guest list included the members of Miss Toft's Kappa Kappa Gamma pledge class, and the mothers of the bride-elect and the hostess, who came from Omaha for the party.

State Calls For Bids On $4.5 Million In Road Construction

The State Highway Department advertised for bids Friday for a proposed $4,500,000 Aug. 27 construction letting.

The work advertised included two interstate highway projects in Lancaster County totaling 6.3 miles — one is between Waverly and the Cass County line and the other is west of Lincoln.

In all, the projects total 136.9 miles of work in addition to 53 gravel resurfacing maintenance projects.

State Engineer Roy Cochran recently announced the highway department had stopped obligating federal funds until the federal highway financing situation is cleared.

Awarding of contracts to low bidders apparently will be delayed until then despite the fact the projects are being offered for bids.

The projects advertised include 23.7 miles of work on which state funds alone are being used. This will not delay contract awards.

The estimated cost includes $1,885,000 in federal interstate funds; $735,000 in federal aid primary funds; $175,000 in federal aid secondary funds; $30,000 in county funds; $1,400,000 in state construction funds and $275,000 in state maintenance funds.

ASTLEFORD'S PUTTING WINS

22½-Foot Putt Ends Spangler's Hopes

Defending Champ, Reed Tied For Second

By Bob McCoy

Omaha—Bob Astleford, a cigar-chewing Omahan, won his second Nebraska amateur golf championship at the Omaha Country Club Friday afternoon, using 3 pressure putts to end Lincolnite Dick Spangler Jr.'s two-year reign on the crown.

Astleford wound up the 72-hole tourney route with a 302, two strokes better than Spangler and another former champion, Ralph (Whitie) Reed, Lincoln city champion.

Bob Astleford

But it took the 3 mighty putts on the final 9 holes to decide the title for the Omahan as Spangler, despite playing a poor round, kept things fairly even and led at one point.

The payoff finally came on the 18th, where Spangler trailed by one stroke at 299.

Astleford's tee shot landed far to the right in a rough wooded area, while Spangler drove straight down the fairway. This gave the Lincolnite a chance to gain a stroke and perhaps send the tourney into a playoff.

But Astleford came out of the rough and then landed his chip shot on the green. Spangler's second shot barely missed the downhill side of the green, and his chip shot wound up in about the same position as Astleford's.

Tourney officials brought out the yardstick, and Astleford lined up his putt from exactly 22 and a half feet (270 inches on the tape), tossed away the remainder of one of the many cigars he consumed during the day, and dropped the shot for the title.

"Beautiful, beautiful," the new champion exclaimed. "That's the way they're supposed to fall."

Spangler two-putted and settled for the tie with Reed, who shot a fine 37 on the last 9 to make his final 18 holes score respectable.

Astleford nearly gave away the title on the final 9, but his uncanny putting saved him. After he teed for an unplayable lie on 13 and went one stroke to Spangler, he dropped a 16-foot uphill putt on 14 to tie things again.

Astleford then went ahead on 15 when Spangler drove into the trees and used a 30-foot putt on 16 to maintain his lead.

Reed and Spangler were both troubled by the hilly OCC course. But their trouble was shared by all the swingers, as no one in the tourney managed to match par 71.

Astleford, who had a 145 going into the gruelling 36-hole finals, added rounds of 78 and 79 to win his first medal play championship. He won the state tourney in 1955—the last year for match play.

Spangler, in 3rd with a 147 entering the final 36, shot rounds of 79 and 78. Reed tacked on a 75 and a 79 to his total of 150 going into the finals.

Lefty Matt Taber of Lincoln, who trailed Astleford by only one stroke until Friday's play, soared to 80-85 and wound up tied for 8th with Dr. Tom Dworak of Lincoln at 311.

Joe Lee of Offutt Air Force Base and Bob Fraser of Omaha, a former champion, finished right behind Reed at 305, while Bill Hawkins of Omaha shot 309 and Dean Wilson Jr. 310 in the championship flight.

Doug Dale of Omaha took the President's Flight with a 322, Tom Fulkerson of Omaha the Secretary's Flight at 321, Lou Roper the Omaha Country Club Flight at 232 and Herb Geisler of Omaha the Senior Flight with a 256 over 54 holes.

Former Contender Sues IBC

New York (AP) — George Araujo, former lightweight contender filed suit Friday in federal court for triple damages totalling $2,068,500 against the International Boxing Club of New York, the IBC of Illinois, the Madison Square Garden Corporation, and James D. Norris and Arthur M. Wirtz, boxing promoters.

The suit stated that in January of 1953 Araujo and Paddy De Marco were the leading contenders for Jimmy Carter's lightweight title and that an unnamed Boston promoter offered to match the two with a guarantee of $12,500 minimum for each, or 27.5 percent of the gate in lieu of the minimum.

The complaint said De Marco and Araujo were willing to accept the terms but that the defendants, before contracts were signed, "advised and threatened the plaintiff that if he engaged Paddy De Marco in a contest which was promoted by a person other than the defendants, the plaintiff would never be permitted to engage in a contest for the world lightweight championship."

Araujo claimed that the defendants "had it at all times within their power to carry out said threat."

QUARTERBACKS TESTED TODAY

Winnoski, Vt. (AP) — The quarterback quartet of the New York Giants is slated for its first test under pressure today. The club's offensive platoon will face the defensive unit in a scrimmage game.

The 4 quarterback candidates are Charlie Conerly, who at 38 looks as good as ever; Don Heinrich, his longtime understudy; George Shaw, a fine signal caller acquired from the Baltimore Colts, and Frank Gifford, who has been making the switch from halback in better style than anyone expected. All 4 will see action.

The 5th Giant quarterback hopeful, Lee Grosscup of Utah, is with the College All-Star squad in Chicago.

Ring Riddle Unanswered

Promotional Antics Rile Johansson

Goteborg, Sweden (AP) — The baffling heavyweight championship promotional riddle, already with more angles than a geometry book, spread out to still another city Friday, and posed still another question.

The new question was: "Who met whom, and why?"

Ingemar Johansson, the champion, Bill Rosensohn, promoter of the June title fight between Johansson and Floyd Patterson; Truman Gibson, president of National Boxing Enterprises, Inc., and Jack Solomons, London promoter, all appeared in Paris simultaneously.

Returning here Johansson denied either he or his advisor, Edwin Ahlquist, had met Solomons.

Solomons, returning to London, said he not only had met the Swedish fighter and Ahlquist, but had dined with them for 3 hours Thursday night.

Johansson and Ahlquist flatly denied comment when asked if they had met with Gibson, who said he was in Paris to visit his daughter.

The sone concrete fact seemed to be that Ingemar and Ahlquist did meet with Rosensohn, as Ahlquist said he thought the erstwhile president of Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., "looked a bit tired and worn out."

Johansson was almost surly when he returned here from the Paris jaunt. Only at Ahlquist's instigation would he say anything.

When he did talk it was to toss a figurative wrench into the plans for a rematch with Patterson Sept. 22. He demanded a full accounting by Sunday at the latest of his purse for the June bout.

"I need the accounting to be ready for a fight with Patterson Sept. 22," he said. "If it doesn't come, the fight will have to be postponed until a later time."

Ahlquist smoothed out the fighter's blunt statement by suggesting it was not an ultimatum but admitted that "the chances for a Sept. 22 match look very slim."

In New York, Irving Kahn, president of the TelePrompTer Corp., said he had sent Ingemar a cable assuring him that he could have a full accounting of the TV, radio and motion picture receipts any time.

Rosensohn, reached by telephone at his Cannes vacation retreat, said he thinks Johansson is ready and willing to fight "if people will just let him, but all this difficulty is making him mad."

Solomons, mum when he left Paris, was loquatious when he arrived in London. He denied he went there to sign Johansson for a British fight in advance of the return fight with Patterson.

"I went to Paris on purely private business which had nothing to do with Johansson, and I spent the day with lawyers," he said. "When I got a call from Ahlquist inviting me to dinner I went.

"Sure we talked a lot, but believe me, not about boxing. It would have been ridiculous of me to try to sign Ingemar. He's a one-fight-at-a-time man and I have no plans for matching any British boxer against him until he and Patterson have their return."

And just to add to the confusion as to who met whom, the British promoter claimed Johansson never did get together with Rosensohn. Gibson Thursday night said Solomons had met with Johansson and Rosensohn.

As promoters, fighters and advisors were playing their version of musical chairs, the investigations of the promotion of the June fight by the district attorney's office in New York and the New York State Athletic Commission continued.

Vincent Velella, holder of two-thirds of the stock in Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., and whose blowup with Rosensohn precipitated the current probes, testified before the grand jury and said he had signed a waiver of immunity as he had nothing to hide. He said an accountant had been examining the records connected with the promotion since Tuesday night.

He was to return Tuesday for further questioning.

Velella said he had an air-tight contract for the return fight and "if Johansson or Patterson refuse to fight, I'll sue."

Cooper Pushed By Trio

...In Cleveland Golf

Cleveland (AP) — Veteran Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla. shot his second straight 4-under par 67 Friday for a 134 and one-stroke lead at the halfway mark in the $25,000 Cleveland Open golf tournament.

On the heels of the 44-year-old sharpshooter with 135 were 3 of the tour's most talented contestants, who stormed into the runnerup spot with scintillating sub-par rounds.

Paul Harney, the 30-year-old 1957 winner from Worcester, Mass., who gets an extra $5,000 if he wins again, made it into the place position with a 63-8 under the card for the 6,966-yard Seneca Golf Course. Gene Littler, the 1953 amateur king from Singing Hills, Calif., raced into the 135 deadlock with a 64, and muscular Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y. did it with a 65.

Harney's 63 duplicated a similar score he fired just a year ago as he won the Milwaukee Open. He had 8 birdies on putts ranging from 3 to 35 feet and was never over par.

Just The Guy Who Beat Poor Old Jerry

Rosburg--Is He Hero Or Heel?

Cleveland, Ohio (AP) — Bob Rosburg wonders why the galleryites conside him a villian just because he won the PGA championship in a blazing finish a week ago.

In the big one, his first victory since 1956, unorthodox Rosburg made up a last-round 6-stroke deficit to triumph by a stroke over Jerry Barber of California, who had led all the way.

Here for the Cleveland Open, bespectacled Bob came in from a 36-33—69 round Friday and said:

"Only 3 people followed us out there today, and my partner, Jay Hebert, had a 66.

"The folks look at me, and instead of saying 'there's the new PGA champion,' they say: 'There's the guy who beat out poor old Jerry Barber.'

"I just don't get it. They still pay off on the entire 72 holes. Art Wall made up 6 strokes in the last round to win the Masters, and became a hero. I did the same thing in the PGA and became a heel.

"No one felt sorry for me when I took a double bogey on the 67th hole and blew this year's National Open by a stroke, and I just can't understand this 'poor little Jerry' stuff.

"After all, Jerry has a $25,000 a year club job, and was on the tour for 15 years. He played sensationally in the PGA until the last few holes, but if he hadn't holed out from the rough and sunk several long putts which you don't expect to sink, he could have lost by 3 or 4 strokes instead of one.

"In the last 31 months I've finished second 7 times, and no one has given me too much sympathy. But it does seem that when you just miss in the Open, and then win the PGA, you'd get a little credit and attention. I also wish Jerry had congratulated me after I nosed him out in the PGA—but he didn't."

The 32-year-old Rosburg, one of the game's great putters, is a bit on the pudgy side, wears glasses, uses a baseball grip—as does Masters Champion Wall — hunches one shoulder higher than the other in addressing the ball, and does a lot of other things the pro's don't teach.

But in the 31 months leading up to the PGA he won $70,000 on the tournament trail, and he added $8,250 in the big one.

He's in the money and he's champ of all the professionals. But he wishes that, just once in a while, some stranger in the gallery would say,

"Nice shot, Bob!"

Grand Island's Success In NSL Credited A's Manager Mazmanian

By Paul LeBar

Grand Island—Kansas City, this city's major league affiliate in the Nebraska State League, has stuck firmly to a grass roots policy while giving Third City baseball fans a pleasing brand of rookie baseball for 4 seasons.

The A's, a rebuilding ball club, have conducted a spirited campaign in search of talented youngsters ever since the organization was transplanted from Philadelphia by owner Arnold Johnson 5 years ago.

Grand Island, conveniently close to the parent club, is one of 8 proving grounds for the talent. Other A's farms include two in Class D leagues, one Class C member, a Class B club in the Three-I League, Class A Albany in the Eastern League, Class AA Shreveport in the Southern Association and Portland, Ore. in the open classification Pacific Coast League.

Grand Island's successes in the State League, however, are as likely to be credited as much to the A's Third City manager as to any other single factor.

The Nebraska pilot, diminutive Art Mazmanian, is a high school football and baseball mentor in the Los Angeles, Calif. public school system. Partially for that reason he was first given the job of training raw recruits, most of them just out of high school.

The 32-year-old former Kansas City Blues infielder is recognized as both an understanding tutor and as a family man of exemplary character, suitable for his young proteges to follow.

Likes Job

Mazmanian, a bundle of nervous energy, doesn't disguise his liking for his tasks, noting: "It gives us a chance to sign younger players and keep them in their own environment with players of equal age and ability."

Art also boasts the longest managerial tenure in the league. He arrived in 1956 with the birth of the NSL and has returned each summer.

His teams, never out of the first division in the Rookie League standings, have been encouraging sources for the Kansas City front office. Tied for second in the opening season, the young A's copped the 1957 loop pennant and tied for 3rd place a year ago.

Near Top

The city, with Chamber of Commerce president Bob Day and grocerer John Ditter as the driving forces, has stood near the top of the league each year in pre-season ticket sales and attendance.

Day doubles as the A's business manager. Ditter is chairman of the Chamber's sub-committee on baseball, a group formed from the old Grand Island Baseball Association last year.

Its members diligently tackle the ticket-selling chore aimed at 500 season books each spring.

Housing Pays Off

Grand Island, like some other members of the NSL, believes the practice of housing its rookies in private homes has paid off. Chamber president Day acknowledges, "The distinctive thing here is the wonderful relationship we have with the whole Kansas City baseball organization."

The feeling, as phrased by A's player personnel director George Selkirk, seems to be mutual:

"I can't think of any other city that could exceed the cooperation of Grand Island. I think it speaks very highly of both the city and its people."

Shaky Lincoln Defense Helps Bluejays Win

Lincoln Star Special

Green Bay, Wis. — Shaky Lincoln defenses treated Green Bay's Blue Jays to a king-sized 6th inning here Friday night as Manager Stan Wosniak's charges outran their Three-I League guests for an 8-4 victory.

Three Lincoln bobbles in the infield during the inning made all the difference as Green Bay counted 6 runs on 4 hits while handing Chiefs righthander Dick Kimball his 3rd straight defeat.

Al Fantuzzi, a 21-year-old outfielder on the rise with the Jays, was the hitting star for Green Bay.

A single off his bat drove across the go-ahead runs in the 6th after he clouted a solo home run in the first frame.

Kimball was breezing on a 3-hitter until the roof caved in.

His early edge came in the form of a two-run Lincoln first plus single tallies in the 4th and 5th innings. Doubles by catcher Gene Martin and outfielder Jim Lynn sparked the latter drives and gave the Chiefs a 4-1 edge.

Lefthander Jim Steinhour went the distance for Green Bay, picking up his 8th win to go with 4 losses. The victory gave the Jays a 2-1 edge in the series.

Only 169 paid admissions braved chilly weather which sent the thermometer into the 50s for the final game of the season between the two clubs.

Lincoln opens a 3-game set at Fox Cities tonight, with ace righthander Al Brice (10-5) a mound probable.

Mays' Single Kayos Cincy

San Francisco (AP) — Willie Mays knocked in the winning run in the last of the 9th inning here Friday night as the San Francisco Giants edged Cincinnati 3-2 with lefthander Johnny Antonelli notching his 16th victory of the campaign.

Mays slammed a hard drive that bounced off Cincinnati relief pitcher Brooks Lawrence for a single as Felipe Alou scampered in from 3rd base.

Win Ups Lead

Antonelli struck out 8. His triumph put the Giants a game and a half ahead of the idle second-place Los Angeles Dodgers and Milwaukee two and a half back.

He became the first hurler in either major league to win 16.

The 9th-inning opened 2-2, and Lawrence hit pinch-hitter Leon Wagner with a pitch. Alou went into run. Antonelli laid down a bunt, and both runners were safe as Lawrence threw wildly to second trying for the force-out. Jimmy Davenport was called out on strikes, and then came Mays' hit that gave Lawrence his 10th defeat against 6 triumphs.

McCovey Is Hitless

With a crowd of 22,794 watching, rookie sensation Willie McCovey went hitless for the first time in his 8 major league games, but he drew a pair of walks from the Reds' youthful lefthander, Jim O'Toole. The latter left for an 8th-inning pinch-hitter just before the Reds tied the count.

Australia Turns Back Italians

Philadelphia (AP) — Lefthanders Rod Laver and Neale Fraser turned back a pair of fighting Italians in 5 hours of exhausting tennis Friday and sent Australia into a 2-0 lead in the Davis Cup inter-zone semifinals.

First Laver, the 20-year-old baby of Harry Hopman's forces, crushed Nicola Pietrangeli, Italy's No. 1 star, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3. Then Fraser, senior member of his squad, outlasted the giant Orlando Sirola 19-17, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4, in a marathon battle which kept a small Germantown Cricket Club gallery well past suppertime.

The Australians can clinch victory in the series by winning today's doubles, and there seems little question that they will make it quick and merciful.

Captain Hopman has the best doubles tandem in amateur tennis in Fraser and Queenslander Roy Emerson, the Wimbledon champions. Only an upset of the greatest proportions could prolong the decision until the final two singles on Sunday.

BOSOX BUMP DETROIT, 4-3

Boston (AP) —Gary Geiger raced home with Boston's winning run on a wild pitch by Ray Narleski Friday night as the Red Sox edged Detroit 4-3.

Young Billy Monbouquette went the distance for an 8-hit triumph while his teammates could collect only 5 blows.

Detroit had pulled even 3-3 on Al Kaline's 8th inning sacrifice fly.

Geiger was on third following a double steal when Narleski, who had relieved Jim Bunning, uncorked a throw which bounced in front of the plate, hopped over catcher Red Wilson's head and back to the screen.

Geiger walked, Gene Stephens moved him to second with a single and they pulled a double steal as Jackie Jensen struck out.

Big Inning Rewarding To Indians

Baltimore (AP) — The Cleveland Indians slashed 6 singles for 4 runs in the 3rd inning here Friday night to storm from behind and then hold the fort for an 8-5 victory over the threatening Baltimore Orioles.

The victory left Chicago 1½ ahead in the American League.

The 4-run Cleveland outburst was at the expense of Oriole pitcher Jerry Walker. It sent him down to his 6th defeat in 14 decisions.

It also salvaged the 10th victory for Herb Score, who departed in the next inning after the Orioles scored their 5th run. But the tired Orioles were too far behind to administer Herb's 10th defeat.

Sox Pair Overcome Senators

Washington (AP)—Billy Goodman's 3 run-producing singles and Bob Shaw's 8-hit pitching added up to a 4-1 Chicago victory over Washington here Friday night.

It was the 20th defeat in 21 games for the last-place Senators, but the 7,702 fans who saw the loss swelled Washington's home attendance to 480,124. The Senators drew only 475,288 all last season.

Bill Fischer was the loser for Washington although he might have fared better with some fielding help. In the first inning Nellie Fox reached base on Ron Samford's error, took second on Jim Landis' hit and scored on Goodman's single.

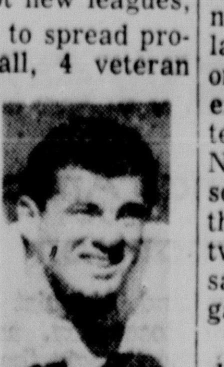
Veteran NFL Pros Against New Leagues

Hershey, Pa. — Expansion of the present National Football League, not new leagues, is the best way to spread professional football, 4 veteran members of the Philadelphia Eagles said here Friday.



Bednarik

Chuck Bednarik, Norm Van Brocklin, Ken McAfee and Bobby Walston, representing a total of 33 years in the NFL, agreed that new leagues probably would benefit players but not the game.

Bednarik, a standout center since joining the Eagles from Penn 11 years ago, and McAfee, former Alabama star, said the new loops would be throwbacks to the old All-America Conference. The AAC died after a competitive player war with the NFL that cost both sides millions of dollars.

"Another league can't operate more than a year or two," asserted Bednarik. "Those millionaires will see a few of their millions disappear and fold up. There aren't enough good players for two leagues, let alone 3. It will mean cut throat competition, under the table deals for players. That business of honoring contracts sounds good, but it won't work."

McAfee, who recently came to the Eagles from the New York Giants, said the new leagues would be an "outlaw leagues like the AAC. The only way they can get players to form the nucleus of pro teams is to raid the NFL. They'll have to grab some of our coaches to teach the game. Too, I don't think two teams can exist in the same city. They'll kill the game."

Walston took a more subdued viewpoint, but the one-time Georgia star agreed that the players would benefit. He said the young fellows coming out of college would be an excellent bargaining position. He also agreed with Bednarik and McAfee that there would be some "jumpers" from the NFL to the other leagues.

Bednarik said the quality of football played in the new leagues would compare to the NFL's as the "Ivy League does to the Big 10. It will be sloppy football," said the former Ivy Leaguer.

Van Brocklin, the shrewd veteran quarterback, feels the NFL could be hurt in 3 ways—violation of the option clause, competition for college players and jumpers.

"If they (new leagues) start to pick off our players it means another dollar battle in which they'll either go broke or have to drill for more oil. Sure, it will help the kids coming out of college. Competition is still the spice of life. I remember when the AAC folded, every player in the NFL took a salary cut. Mine was $3,000."

Van Brocklin said pro football vied for the entertainment dollar and that by putting 11 players on the field and calling them a pro football team didn't make it so.

"They'll need excellent organization and qualified coaches. They can't play the ball control game of the colleges. People will go to sleep on them. I can't see how they can produce a show comparable to the NFL's. It's been only in the last 10 years that our league has really come of age."

Would stars of the Van Brocklin, Bednarik, Walston, McAfee magnitude "jump" for more money? All 4 said they wouldn't.

Van Brocklin summed up the feelings of the four when he said, "You've got to think of the long haul, not the quick dollar. I could have earned more money playing in the AAC, but I took less to move into the NFL because it's future looked more solid. The thinking ball player has to feel the same way."

Stan's Homer Paces Cards Past Phillies

St. Louis (AP) — Stan Musial cracked a home run with a teammate on base in the 9th inning here Friday night to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Musial's homer, his 10th of the season, came on a 2-1 pitch off reliever Ruben Gomez with none out. Gomez, now 1-8 for the season, entered the game in the 9th and walked the first batter, Joe Cunningham.

The game's other runs also resulted from homers. Ken Boyer belted his 20th for the Cardinals in the second inning off Don Cardwell, the Phils' starter. Wally Post tied it with No. 13 in the 4th off St. Louis starter Wilmer Mizell.

The victory went to Lindy McDaniel, the Cardinals' relief ace, who is now 10-10 for the season. McDaniel took over with one out and a man on first in the 9th. The next batter, Dave Philley, delivered a pinch infield single, but McDaniel got Carl Sawatski, also pinchhitting, to hit into a double play.

Yanks Belt A's, Regain 1st Division

New York (AP)—Whitey Ford, with the help of Ryne Duren, registered his first victory Friday night since July 19 as the New York Yankees shut out the Kansas City Athletics 3-0 to scramble back into the first division.

Hank Bauer, Yogi Berra and Elston Howard drove in the runs, the first two by way of home runs. Bud Daley, left-handed knucklebatter was charged with the defeat although he permitted only 3 hits until the 7th inning when he was sent to the showers after giving up singles to Berra and Howard following a pass to Mickey Mantle.

Bauer's homer, his 8th, came in the second inning. Berra hit his 15th of the year and the 299th of his career in the 4th. Howard's run-scoring single made it 3-0 in the 7th.

The victory was Ford's 11th against 6 defeats. Daley, who has lost 3 out of 4 to the Yankees this season, dropped his 7th against 12 victories.

Schedule Moved Up For AAU

Meet director Wendell Groth of the Lincoln Swim Club said Friday an unexpected heavy enrollment has forced re-scheduling of the Midwest AAU age-group diving championships at Hillcrest Country Club Sunday.

Groth said he has received 84 entries, 54 from outstate, for the second part of the two-day swimming and diving events. The diving competition, originally slated for 4 p.m. Sunday at Hillcrest, has consequently been moved up to 1 p.m.

About 365 youngsters from Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota will take part in the swimming competition opening with relays this morning at 9:30. The meet will be held at the municipal swimming pool.

On the all-day agenda are a coaches' meeting and preliminary races beginning at 11 a.m. Finals for the meet start at 6 p.m.

The diving competition Sunday, Groth said will feature "some of the top divers from the Midwest area." Included in the group are Ann Nothnagel Aubrey of Omaha and Ron Marsh, high school All-American from Kansas City.

Fifteen men divers have entered the senior division.

Stock Car Card Includes Derby

A Demolition Derby will be held at Capitol Beach tonight in addition to the regular stock car races.

The races get underway at 8:15 on the Lincoln Speedways track with the crash-o-rama immediately following.

Moore Donates Part Of Purse To Relief

Montreal (AP) — Champion Archie Moore said he is giving $1,000 of his purse from next Wednesday's light heavyweight championship fight to the relief fund in behalf of families of 35 New Brunswick fishermen drowned June 20 in Northumberland Strait.

Yvon Durelle, Moore's challanger and a New Brunswick fisherman himself, kept his boats at home that day and was ashore when the storm struck.

LSU has beaten Tennessee but once in 12 football meetings. One game ended in a tie.

DrabowskyBlanksBucs As Chicago 9 Triumphs

Chicago (AP)— Righthander Moe Drabowsky of the Chicago Cubs scattered 5 hits for a 4-0 whitewash of the Pittsburgh Pirates, scoring his first victory since June 6.

The Cubs also collected only 5 hits, but two were back-to-back homers in the 3rd off Pirate starter Ron Kline by Ernie Banks and Art Schult.

Drabowsky, striking out 6 and walking two in posting his 5th victory in 13 decisions, also notched his last previous triumph against the Pirates, June 6. That, incidentally, also was his only other complete game in a total of 17 starts.

Banks smashed a 420-footer into the centerfield bleachers for his 31st homer of the season and 101st run-batted-in and Schult slammed his first into the right center stands.

The Cubs got their first pair of tallies in the second inning on a walk, singles by Sammy Taylor and Drabowsky and a long sacrifice fly Virdon hauled down out of the ivy in center field.

Fred Green and Don Gross hurled hitless ball for the Bucs through the final 5 rounds, but Pittsburgh couldn't get a man past second base.

Drabowsky has made a specialty of beating the Pirates since he has signed as a bonus player out of Trinity College in 1956. Of his total of 29 major league victories 8 have come at the expense of the Bucs, two of them this year.

MEL APPEALS— BUY A LICENSE

M. O. Steen, State Game Director, made a "personal appeal" to Nebraskans Friday to "please go buy a fishing license—they only cost two dollars and we hate to be arresting people right and left."

Steen said a report of arrests by conservation officers in the past week shows 13 out of 17 were for fishing without permits. Fines ranged from $10 to $25, plus costs, he said.

"We hate to haul people into court and have the judge fine them 5 or 10 times the cost of a license," Steen said, "but we will continue to do so."

He said licenses are available from 1,200 vendors throughout the state.

Since the javelin event was included in the program for the first time, Ilsa's effort became a record.

Pesek Plan Pits Mitsu Vs. Bruiser

Lincoln matchmaker Jack Pesek has a plan. If any one of the grunt and groan specialists about can tame Mitsu Arakawa, the Japanese meanie, it certainly ought to be Dick The Bruiser.

In his last Lincoln appearance, Mitsu was disqualified in the 57th minute of the scheduled 60-minute feature tag match. The disqualification cost Mitsu and his Japanese teammate Tosh Togo a team match against Germans Hans Schmidt and Otto Von Krupp.

Tuesday at Pershing Municipal Auditorium it will be Mitsu versus the free-wheeling, rough-housing Bruiser, who lost his world's heavyweight title to Wilbur Snyder July 25.

Aslo on hand in the air-conditioned arena will be Togo, who will tangle with Minnesotan Thor Hagen in the semi-windup. The pair will go for two out of 3 falls in a 45-minute time limit bout.

Special feature of the evening card will pit ladies Lorraine Johnson of Red Wing, Minn. against Judy Glover, billed as the Southern States queen.

Doby Not Ready

Portland, Ore. (AP) — Larry Doby, left-hand-hitting outfielder down from the Chicago White Sox, will break into the San Diego lineup in a few days, Padre manager George Metkovich said.

Doby joined the Pacific Coast League team here Tuesday. He had not been used by Chicago for a month and a half and was not ready to play, Metkovich said

Elizabeth Awaits Her Third Baby Early In '60

...First To Reigning Queen In Over Century

By Eddy Gilmore

London (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II will have a third baby early next year—the first to be born to a reigning British monarch in more than a century.

Elizabeth II

Her health is fine, her doctors said. She was off in the Scottish highlands for a holiday at Balmoral Castle with her husband, Prince Philip, and their two children.

"I'm looking forward very much to my holiday at Balmoral," she told greeting officials on her arrival. They had not yet been let in on the royal secret.

The 33-year-old-queen looked happy and healthy. The news of the coming blessed event was made public in formal style at Buckingham Palace a few hours after she vanished behind the walls of Balmoral Castle.

January Or February

January or February seemed the date. Court officials said it was in late June that the queen had a strong suspicion she was pregnant.

But she had refused to call off her Canadian tour to dedicate the St. Lawrence seaway or her visit to Chicago several weeks ago for fear it would disappoint Canadians and Americans.

The royal baby now on the way will be the first born to a reigning British sovereign since the birth of Princess Beatrice to Queen Victoria in 1857.

The queen's other children were born before the death of her father, King George VI, when she was still Princess Elizabeth. The queen's other children are:

Prince Charles Philip Arthur George, born Nov. 14, 1948.

Princess Anne Elizabeth Alice Louise, born Aug. 15, 1950.

Elizabeth was crowned queen on June 2, 1953.

The birth will change the line of succession to the throne. Prince Charles now is first, Princess Anne second and Princess Margaret, the queen's 28-year-old sister, third. If the baby is a boy he will be No. 2 in line of succession ahead of Anne. If a girl, she will come after Princess Anne, but before Princess Margaret, who drops from third to fourth in any case.

Airman Chutes 9 Miles

Gets Yo-Yo Buffeting Half Hour In Storm

(Editor's Note: Marine Lt. Col. William H. Rankin parachuted from a crippled jet plane at 47,000 feet and was tossed about by a thunderstorm for more than half an hour before he reached earth. These are his reactions as told to the Associated Press.)

Beaufort, S.C. (AP) — Marine Lt. Col. William H. Rankin, 39, thinks his unplanned 47,000-foot parachute jump that lasted 40 minutes—most of it while he was the plaything of a vicious thunderstorm—may have a scientific value.

"It's just my opinion, I could be wrong," he emphasizes. "But I think it proved a man can survive a parachute jump starting from as high as 50,000 feet, provided his plane isn't exceeding the speed of sound."

It also may have proved a man can stand more than half an hour of yo-yo treatment in the heart of a thunderstorm, peppered by hail and menaced by lightning. Measured by Col. Rankin's watch, and verified by other comparative times, it was 40 minutes before he came to earth.

Air Force officials in Washington stressed that spacemen who parachute to earth will travel in capsules, not unprotected as Col. Rankin was.

Rankin's F8U Crusader fighter was doing 500 miles an hour—about 100 miles an hour less than the speed of sound—when the engine quit over coastal North Carolina.

Dag Going South

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold said he will visit Argentina, Brazil, Paraguay and Uruguay Aug. 24 to Sept. 4.

Can't Apply For Drivers Permits Until Sept. 1st

Don't try to renew your Nebraska driver's license before the Sept. 1st expiration date.

That's the advice from County License Bureau Chief Ralph Saathoff. He said several persons, noting that the licenses expire Sept. 1st, have applied at his Courthouse office for new ones.

But Saathoff said renewal applications by mail or in person will not be accepted until Sept. 1st. He noted law provides a 60-day renewal period.

Truckload Of Explosives Blows Up—

Blast Kills 10 In Oregon City

...Scores Hurt And Homes Leveled

Roseburg, Ore. (AP)—A truck with 6½ tons of explosives aboard caught fire from a burning building and blew up here Friday.

It slammed shock waves and fire through block after block in the heart of the city, killing at least 10 people and almost certainly more.

Only fragments of the buildings were left in an area of 6 square blocks where there had been warehouses, small businesses and some two-story apartment.

Eight small frame homes were destroyed. Many more were hard hit.

Terribly burned bodies were pulled from ruins and ashes. A hundred or more were injured.

Buildings in the main business district were torn, their windows gone and doors spintered.

Intense Heat

Heat at the start of the disaster was so intense Firemen Lyle Wescott said, "I looked down and saw the skin peeling off my hands."

Arlo Jacklin, mayor of this city of 12,100 located 185 miles south of Portland, estimated property damage at 10 to 12 million dollars.

Coroner C. H. Babbitt said he did not know how many bodies would be found.

County Civil Defense Director Arthur Selby said the toll might be as high as 20.

Scores Treated

Hospitals admitted 52 injured and treated more as outpatients.

The blast and fire left a dirt-bare circle 200 feet across. In the center was a hole where the explosives truck had been. The crater was at least 20 feet deep and 50 feet across.

Destruction was so complete over 3 square blocks everything was leveled.

A truck cargo of two tons of dynamite and 4½ tons of ammonium nitrate caused the shattering blast.

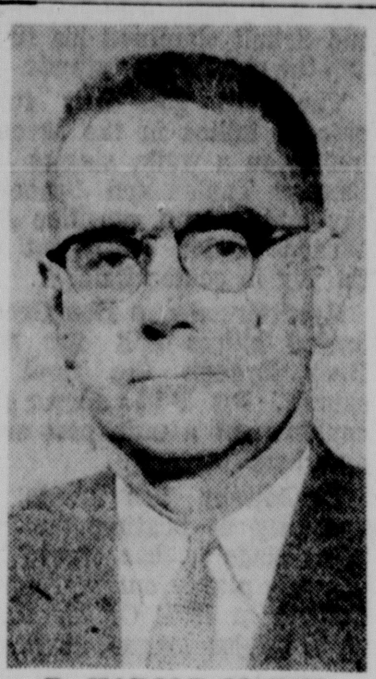
Driver Hears Siren

Driver George Rutherford, 47, Chehalis, Wash., parked the truck Thursday night on the street beside the Gerretsen Building Supply Co. and went to the Umpqua hotel. At 1:15 a.m., the sound of a fire siren sent him racing down the street. The fire was in the Gerretsen building.

It spread quickly to the truck.

Rutherford was running toward it, still a block away, when his truck exploded. He was smashed to the ground.

Ammonium nitrate was the explosive that ripped Texas City, Tex., apart in 1947 with loss of 561 lives.



R. HAROLD MARKS

R. H. Marks In Resource Division Post

R. Harold Marks of Lincoln has been named an administrative assistant in the Division of Nebraska Resources to work in the fields of research and community industrial development.

Appointment of the 51-year-old Lincolnite, who was employed 15 years with the Pegler & Co. wholesale firm, and who has served as administrative assistant to purchasing and contracing officers of Air Force bases at Lincoln and Fairmont, was announced Friday by David Osterhout, acting division chief.

"This addition to our staff will make possible greater coordination between local community development groups and the work of the state office," Osterhout said, adding that the division "will put more emphasis on development of existing industry."

Marks, an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination of Lancaster County Clerk in 1958, is a member of the Nebraska State Historical Society and worked as state supervisor of two projects of the Society, working in public records and research materials, editing and compiling data now deposited in the Library of Congress.

Brock Sees Compromise Labor Bill

...Sets Flood Tour

Omaha (AP)—Rep. Lawrence Brock of Nebraska said Friday he expects the labor bill eventually passed by Congress will be a compromise.

"I don't believe you will be able to call it any one person's bill by the time we are through with it," Rep. Brock said.

He commented that he wished President Eisenhower had been more specific in his address to the nation as to the areas in which the President wanted strengthened legislation.

Then he remarked, "It seems like everybody in the district has been writing me about the labor bill."

Brock came to Omaha to tour flood-stricken areas in his Third District.

He will make the tour Saturday accompanied by Maj. Gen. Keith R. Barney and Col. David Hammond of the Army Engineers and said he expected State Sens. Otto Liebers, Lincoln, and Harold Stryker, Rising City, to go along.

Disputed Road Project Bid Now In Two Sections

The highway project which caused a wage-setting dispute between the governor and contractors was advertised in two separate parts Friday.

The projects are on Nebraska highway 31 in both Douglas and Washington Counties. They had previously been advertised July 31, but withdrawn before the bids were opened. At that time it was all included in one project.

It appeared in Friday's letting divided on the county line—the state maintains a higher wage level must be complied with in Douglas County than in Washington.

Stocks Suffer Severe Loss

New York (AP) — The stock market tried to steady itself late Friday but the effort failed and prices tumbled to another fairly severe loss.

The drop was equal to Wednesday's, based on The Associated Press average.

An estimated $1,400,000,000 was clipped from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange based on the fall in the AP average.

Space age stocks took it on the chin once again. This was the fourth straight day of weakness for the electronics-missile-rocket fuel group.

Brokerage house comment has been building up on the general theme that now is a good time to take profits on the "glamour stocks" which depend so much on defense contracts, for who can tell what the Eisenhower-Khrushchev visits will bring about in the way of defense cutbacks and stretchouts?

Steels, rails, aircrafts, motors and rails also backed away but losses in these groups were held generally to a 1-point range.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 3.41 to 668.57.

The AP 60-stock average fell $1.10 to $233.30 with the industrials down $1.80, the rails down $1.20 and the utilities down 20 cents.

Of 1,198 issues raded, 605 declined and 383 advanced. New lows for the year outnumbered new highs by 27 to 22.

Volume slipped to 2,580,000 shares compared with 2,610,000 Thursday.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks declined and six advanced

Corporate bonds rose in slightly more active trading. U.S. government bonds were firm in light dealings over the counter.

Bond sales totaled $6,460,000 compared with $5,390,000 Thursday.

Grains, Soybeans Steady To Weak

Chicago (AP) — Rye futures were good gainers but all other grains and soybeans were steady to weak in light dealings Friday on the Board of Trade.

Prices generally reacted to influences that have been dominant in recent trading, mostly improved crop prospects as a result of recent rains.

Soybeans again led the setbacks with losses running to a cent while rye gained a cent on the March and May deliveries and closed within fractions of new highs for the season.

The March and May corn deliveries again slipped to new season lows but the extreme decline in that grain was on September which was off 1¼ cents.

Wheat held steady throughout on reports that the baking industry generally was extending flour orders as much as three or four months ahead. However, there appeared to be only a small volume of mill buying here on that account.

Since a private crop report last Tuesday forecast a soybean yield of about 520½ million bushels that commodity has been under fairly stiff and steady pressure. One processor hinted that the August report by the Department of Agriculture next week may be at least slightly more bullish.

In the futures, wheat closed ⅛ cent lower to ¼ higher, September $1.89½-⅝; corn unchanged to 1¼ lower, September $1.18⅞-19; oats ⅜-⅝ lower, September new type contract 68⅛-68; rye ½-1 cent higher, September $1.31⅜; soybeans ⅝-1 cent lower, September $2.14⅜-½.

Military Building Fund Cut

. . . By House Unit

Washington (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee, accusing the armed forces of "piecemeal and short-range planning," Friday slashed 18% from President Eisenhower's request for military construction funds.

The committee approved a bill to appropriate $1,285,012,700 for military building in the fiscal year that began July 1. The total was $278,187,300 below the amount recommended by the President.

In its report on the measure, the committee sharply rebuked the Defense Department for what it called a lack of co-ordination on construction planning. It said "much remains to be done" in this field.

Hospital Funds Denied

The committee denied the department's request for funds to build 10 new military hospitals on grounds that the cost estimates were far too excessive.

It said the average cost estimates of from $22,530 to $44,933 a bed compared with $19,500 a bed for hospitals built under the law that provides federal aid for civilian hospital construction.

The House will act on the bill Monday. As approved by the committee, the measure would provide $777,066,600 for the Air Force, $272,564,100 for the Army, $188,637,000 for the Navy, and $46,745,000 for the office of the defense secretary.

Scottsbluff Mental Clinic Fund Lack Provokes Fight

By Betty Person

Comments from the Board of Control's new Democratic member Mrs. Ethel Kirwin relative to the lack of an appropriation for the Scottsbluff Mental Health Clinic have triggered a series of charges over the state.

Mrs. Kirwin blamed lack of interest on the part of Dr. Cecil Wittson of Omaha, director of the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute, for loss of the $82,356 requested for the Scottsbluff facility.

She added she thought it "high time" the Board of Control "started running the institutions instead of the institutions running the board."

Leeman Ired

This aroused the ire of Board of Control Chairman Charles Leeman, also a Democrat, who said Mrs. Kirwin was "all wrong," and that Dr. Wittson had been "responsible for getting the Scottsbluff Clinic started and certainly wanted it continued."

Leeman noted that funds for continuing the Scottsbluff operation had been requested by Dr. Wittson, the Board of Control, former Gov. Victor Anderson and Gov. Ralph Brooks but had been cut by the Budget Committee "without their consulting anyone about it."

Leeman said he did not learn of the cut until two days before the budget bill was passed and it was too late to do anything about it.

Liebers Answers

This brought comment from Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln that each spending agency in state government "was informed at least a week before" of the committee's action on their appropriations.

He also commented that the "Scottsbluff Clinic was never in existence" other than the NPI's having "a man coming in occasionally" to take care of the area's mental health needs.

The Budget Committee was "not critical" of Dr. Wittson or the Board of Control, Liebers said, but learned they were "having difficulty staffing these clinics," and after having "absolute assurance" that the North Platte Clinic would be staffed, decided Scottsbluff "could be served easier" through North Platte.

'Very Strongly'

Dr. Wittson, stating emphatically that he "felt very strongly" that the Scottsbluff Clinic should be continued, also said the facility had been staffed full-time by Dr. Joe Martin, a psychiatrist, who later left for personal reasons.

After that, he said, the clinic was staffed by a psychologist, Stewart Atkinson, and a social worker and secretary, with "covering" service by a psychiatrist from the Institute at Omaha.

The NPI director added that loss of operating funds for the clinic had brought the subsequent loss of $200,000 from a federal fund research grant obtained on a competitive basis, thus placing the Institute in an "embarrassing" position.

Sen. Terry Carpenter, in whose district the clinic is located, was critical of both Mrs. Kirwin and the Budget Committee.

'Not Good Taste'

"Dr. Wittson is a highly recognized authority in the mental health field," Carpenter said, adding that it was "not good taste for Mrs. Kirwin to come bustling in, after serving on the Board such a short time, and act like she knows more about what is needed than he does."

The Scottsbluff senator said it appeared Mrs. Kirwin was "trying to make this a political thing by implying that I was not as alert as I should have been in protecting the interests of my area.

"I'm in the peculiar position of having urged adoption of the budget bill exactly as it was reported out by the committee which stems from my not having been suspicious enough," Carpenter remarked.

"The Budget Committee certainly was lacking in ethics not to tell another member of the Legislature about its action affecting that person's area, which resuls in my having a long, deep knife in my back," the Scottsbluff senator declared.

DRIVER RUNS DOWN WIFE ON SECOND TRY

Fosston, Minn. (UPI)—Gregor Useldinger, 61, ran down his wife with an automobile on a second attempt after missing her on the first try, police said.

Mrs. Useldinger, 43, was in a hospital with multiple injuries. Her husband was jailed at nearby Crookston on charges of reckless driving and attempt to do great bodily harm.

LEVIES FOR COUNTY'S SCHOOL DISTRICTS SET

School levies for Lancaster County's 61 school districts were set Friday by the County Board.

The Board set the levies from the budgets which had been adopted by the school districts.

All districts except the 9 high school districts also will have an additional levy of 10.20 for free high school tuition students. Several districts also will have building levies.

Four levies were not set because their districts overlap with other counties and the other counties do not yet have their valuation figures available.

Hickman	1,700	.60
